Court Hits At Drinking

Five motorists who took to the road when their ability was impaired by alcohol during the week-end paid $1,000 in fines in city police court today.

Each received a $200 fine and a one-year license suspension. All pleaded guilty.

Fined were Gnr. Edward A. Panig, Gordon Head Camp; Raymond Jones, 1441 Craigflower; Edward Forrest, Duncan; Gerald Edward Sandy, Prospect Lake; and Andrew J. Smith, 548 Atkins.

It was the biggest week-end sweep of drinking drivers by police in a long time.

The police blotter showed the drivers who had been drinking, though not excessively, had their car keys taken from them. They were advised to pick up the keys from the police when competent to drive.

OPPOSES LENIENCY

Prosecutor James J. Proudfoot opposed leniency pleas on license suspensions. In some cases in the past Magistrate Henry Hall has given three-month total suspensions, with driving allowed for business purposes only for the following three months.

"I am seriously considering heavier fines and license suspensions," Magistrate Hall served warning. He noted that penalties imposed thus far had not appeared to be a sufficient deterrent.

Counsel for one of the accused, Joseph McKenna, suggested that he did not think the magistrate had jurisdiction to suspend licenses under the Criminal Code amendment for this type of driving.

Prosecutor Proudfoot said he had consulted the Attorney-General on the matter and suggested the magistrate make the suspensions.

In the cases of Sandy and Smith, the prosecutor said they were fortunate not to be facing the court on Criminal Code charges of drunken driving.

Circumstances given the court showed that Smith, Jones and Panig were involved in collisions with other cars.

Giant Waves Capsize Boat; Six Drowned

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 3 (AP)—Six of 11 persons were drowned Sunday when waves and currents tossed a Sunday pleasure boat over like a cork at its home port entrance here.

Lifeguards said they understood a 12th unidentified man was missing, but survivors listed only 11 on the boat.

The 40-foot "Dot," a converted former navy landing craft, was hit by heavy ground swells in an outgoing tide in the narrow Mission Bay entrance channel.

City lifeguards, watching from a lookout tower, were at the scene in a few minutes. They pulled nine from the water—four dead and five alive.

Two others were swept out to sea, with darkness halting the search for them.

The dead included Mrs. Dorothy Cutright of San Diego, 34, only woman in the party, and the only one wearing a life preserver when the boat capsized.

New Candied Diphtheria 'Booster' Popular

Thirteen-year-old Judy Hayhoe can't make up her mind which tastes better—candy peppermint stick or new caramel-flavored "booster" dose for diphtheria immunization. She will be among 80 other Central Junior High School students to undergo first tests Wednesday of easy-to-take toxoid candy. Developed in eastern Canada, candies will replace necessity of using needle to make secondary immunization for diphtheria. About 300 Victoria students—in three age groups—will be given candies under supervision of city health authorities. First results will be known within a year. (Times photo)

CHURCH-GOERS STAGE RIOT

FORT WORTH, Tex., Dec. 3 (AP)—Dozens of churchgoers were carted off to the police station Sunday when a riot over ouster of the pastor broke out in front of the Ross Avenue Baptist Church. Several church members swapped blows and six policemen were needed to stop the riot.

The churchgoers broke into heated argument again at the police station, Lt. Wilford Matlock said. He threatened to place all of them in jail.

B.C. Typhoon Lashes Coast

VANCOUVER, Dec. 3 (UP)—Reports from remote government outposts in the Queen Charlotte Islands off the north coast of British Columbia told today of a hurricane which battered the area with winds up to 115 miles per hour.

Weather officials in Vancouver termed it the "worst storm of the year."

Government weather observers and airport officials said no reports of deaths or injuries due to the high winds had been received. Radio broadcasts had ordered the island fishing fleet into shelter before the blow struck. (See story page 11)

TEACH IRISH MANNERS

Judge O.K.'s Mrs. Shaw Fund For Novel Purpose

LONDON, Dec. 3 (AP)—A British judge signalled an apprehensive go-ahead today for a $263,200 attempt to teach the Irish better manners.

Justice Sir Harry Vaisey opened the way for the experiment by approving a trust set up by the Irish-born wife of the late playwright George Bernard Shaw to teach the Irish people "the social graces." In passing judgment he commented:

"How the people of Ireland will react to such intensive treatment as Mrs. Shaw appeared to envisage we ought not to speculate." The court action was brought by the National Provincial Bank of England as trustee for the estate of Mrs. Shaw, who died in 1944. The bank questioned whether a valid charitable trust could be set up to carry out the project.

The National City Bank of Dublin, designated by Mrs. Shaw to carry out her project, contended that the trust was valid. Mrs. Shaw directed that the money be spent to teach the Irish "self control, elocution, deportment, the arts of personal contact and social intercourse."

'LAVENDER HILL MOB' HAUL NETS SOLARIUM $1,200

Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children benefited by approximately $1,200 from the premiere preview showing of "The Lavender Hill Mob" at Odeon Theatre Sunday night, sponsored by The Solarium and The Times.

The final figure will be announced when all returns from Solarium Junior League ticket salesmen have been made.

Stories and pictures on the gala preview are on pages 11 and 13.

Massie White Thinks Thugs After Money

VANCOUVER, Dec. 3 (UP)—The central figure in Vancouver's bookmaking conspiracy trial said today he thinks two "big fellows" who slugged him and his wife Saturday night were in his home "under the mistaken idea I had some money stashed there."

E. Massie White and his wife, Jean, were pistol-whipped when they returned home to find the men in their house.

White said the only reason he could think of for the men being there was the reported burglary of the home of a Seattle publisher who formerly handled horse race information.

Frank A. Nation, 24, told Seattle police in a signed confession last month that a July 18 burglary at the home of George O'Malley netted $30,000 in U.S. and $20,000 in Canadian currency.

White was linked with O'Malley at the conspiracy hearing when a police detective testified that White told him he formerly paid O'Malley $100 a day for racing information.

White, along with 33 others, is charged with conspiracy to operate race horse bookmaking in Vancouver. The crown has charged that horse racing information supplied by White was the "foundation" of bookmaking here.

Police said they had "no leads" in the case.

STALIN-TSE-TUNG MEET PRESAGE OF BIG THREE

MILAN, Italy, Dec. 3 (AP)—A meeting of Premier Stalin and Communist China's Mao Tse-Tung in December is being planned in Moscow, the rightist independent newspaper Corriere D'Informazione reported today.

A dispatch from Stockholm said the meeting, might be a prelude to a conference between Stalin, Prime Minister Churchill and President Truman.

Corriere D'Informazione, an afternoon newspaper published by Italy's well-known Corriere Della Sera, added:

"Stalin may wish to reach a personal understanding with the two western leaders because he is worried about the present pace of American rearmament."

700 Canadians N.A.T.O.-Bound

Victoria's Scottish Plus Other 27th Brigade Personnel Sail To Join Comrades

QUEBEC, Dec. 3 (CP)—The 1st Canadian Highland Battalion and other 27th Brigade personnel sailed Sunday for Europe to join other Canadian troops placed at the disposal of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense forces.

The sailing of 700 troops aboard the 13,500-ton Canberra marked the second time the liner has taken 27th Brigade troops to Rotterdam.

The Canberra's first sailing was Nov. 5 with 500 specialists of the 5,500-man brigade. The rifle and infantry battalions and a few other troops of the Brigade—about 3,100 men in all—are already stationed in Germany.

From Rotterdam, the Highland battalion and dental, provost and medical corps men, will travel by train to the Brigade camp near Hannover in the British sector of western Germany.

The Highland battalion, under the command of Lt. Col. R. L. Rutherford of Winnipeg, veteran of the Second World War, is made up of companies from the Black Watch, Montreal; the 38th Highlanders, Toronto; the Seaforth Highlanders, Vancouver; the Canadian Scottish, Victoria, B.C.; and the North Nova Scotia Highlanders.

TRAINED NEARBY

It was trained at nearby Valcartier Camp.

On hand for the departure were Brig. M. P. (Pat) Bogert, director general of military training at army headquarters in Ottawa; Brig. Frank Fleury, commander of eastern Quebec military area, and Col. D. F. Forbes, infantry director at army headquarters.

Most Rev. Maurice Roy, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Quebec and ordinary of the Canadian armed forces, paid a surprise visit to the ship to bid the troops "bon voyage."

Two men of the battalion's pipe band, which also sailed, piped the archbishop down from the Canberra before the gangplank was pulled away.

The battalion sailed in high spirits as the pipe band aboard the Canberra and the band of the Royal 22nd Regiment on the dock played favorite tunes for them.

A small group of relatives were at the dock.

The sailing was the fifth and last from Quebec since the brigade's main advance party set out Oct. 21.

Due to the impending close of St. Lawrence River navigation, departures will be from Halifax—probably Dec. 8 and Dec. 13—bringing the brigade to full overseas strength.

Customs Hold U.S. Vessel

VANCOUVER, Dec. 3 (CP)—A U.S. ship has been seized by Canadian Customs officials following an attempt by three seamen to bring 20,000 American cigarettes ashore.

R.C.M.P. said today three sailors of the Ss. Jacob Luckenbach apparently took the cigarettes from the bonded stores after the ship was docked.

The ship was seized pending a customs penalty to be placed on the ship.

The cigarettes were apparently discovered after the three men were caught by R.C.M.P. officers taking two cartons ashore.

The ship, which arrived from Japan, was due to sail for U.S. ports tonight.

Athabaskan Opens Up As Reds Take Island

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (CP)—A Chinese amphibious force drove South Korean guerrillas off an island near the Yalu River mouth Friday in the face of opposition by four United Nations warships, including the Canadian destroyer Athabaskan.

The Athabaskan, along with the British cruiser Ceylon and destroyer Cockade, threw gunfire at the Reds and evacuated between 300 and 400 South Koreans. (Most of H.M.C.S. Athabaskan's crew of nearly 300 men is from Victoria and western points.)

She is known as a "western ship," which means, the Navy says, her complement is drawn largely from officers and men who live no further east than Winnipeg.

In command is Cdr. Dudley G. King, formerly of Duncan, whose wife and children live in married quarters at H.M.C. dockyard.

Athabaskan's executive officer is Lt. Cdr. Robin B. Hayward, also of Duncan and Victoria.

Other Victorian officers include: Lt. (E.) J. W. Hamilton, Lt. Cdr. C. A. Hamer, Lt. P. L. S. McCulloch, Lt. F. R. Fowling and Lt. Cdr. (L.) J. D. Hall.

(The North Korean radio today claimed Red troops captured three Allied-held islands—Taehwa, Sowha and Toi—killing more than 500 Allied soldiers.)

ADMITS ISLAND LOSS

The navy today admitted the loss of Taehwa Island. It said about 1,000 Chinese took part in an overwater assault on the island which has been used as an Allied raiding base for several months.

Navy reports gave few details. Enemy artillery on nearby islands countered the Allied naval force. One man aboard the Cockade was killed by a Red shell. There were no reports of other casualties aboard the warships.

Planes from the United States light carrier Rendova covered the three ships that moved in close to the island. Taehwa is about 35 miles southeast of the mouth of the Yalu River—the border between North Korea and Manchuria.

The carrier's action was tied to previously announced destruction of 10 Red planes, including six bombers, by U.S. Air Force Sabre jets.

The navy said the formation of enemy planes over the area was broken up. The Red planes were apparently headed south to support the amphibious landing.

One Red plane got through the Allied fighter screen and dropped one stick of bombs on the island before the South Koreans were taken off.

Reds Agree To Neutral Inspection

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Dec. 3 (UP)—The Communists broke the Korean armistice deadlock today by agreeing to a total arms freeze and proposing that "neutral" inspectors come behind the Iron Curtain to enforce it.

It marked the first time that the Communists, anywhere have accepted the principle of arms inspection behind their borders or lines.

But they phrased the concessions in language that might end the U.S. army's rotation program, preventing replacement of battleworn units and permit the Communists to complete new jet airfields.

United Nations truce negotiators sought to clarify the Red proposal by posing 21 questions. The Communists promised to answer them at the armistice meeting at 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 a.m. today E.S.T.).

The replies may go a long way toward determining whether there will be an armistice in Korea by Christmas.

If the Allies accept the Red program, it will be turned over to a subcommittee to work out in detail.

However, the Allies are particularly anxious to know just which "neutral nations" the Communists have in mind to police the truce.

In Communist eyes, both Russia and China are neutral. So also are Red Czechoslovakia, Poland and the Balkan countries. On the other hand, most other U.N. members are involved in the war on the Allied side.

The Communist compromise offer nevertheless marked the biggest step toward an armistice since both sides agreed last Tuesday that the cease-fire line shall be along the present battle-line if the rest of the truce terms can be settled by Dec. 27.

U.S. Pilots Score Major Triumph In Big Air War

By JOHN RANDOLPH

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 3 (AP)—United States Sabre jets, outnumbered four to one, scored a sweeping victory Sunday in the mounting battle for aerial supremacy over Korea.

The Far East Air Forces reported five Communist M.I.G. jets were shot down and three damaged without loss of any Sabres.

Allied and Communist jets tangled in two brief air scraps high over Northern Korea Monday. The Fifth Air Force said two Communist M.I.G.'s were damaged and all Allied planes returned safely.

The air force said 684 sorties had been flown up to 6 p.m.

The calm along the Korean ground front remained unbroken Monday. The Eighth Army reported no significant action up to noon. There were a few light contacts on the central and eastern fronts.

A low cloud blanket cut down aerial strikes after Sunday's jet victory.

Forty-seven F-86 Sabre jets took on 175 M.I.G.'s in that battle between Sinanju and North Korean capital, Pyongyang.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

When you talk to Art Rudge, the city's juvenile officer, he tells you the number of youngsters coming into court this year is about the same as last. There isn't much change.

In 1950, a total of 140 cases were heard by the magistrate in that age category—under 18. The number represents only instances in which the youngsters actually reached Greater Victoria courts.

Stott

It does not include those warned by juvenile officers and told to behave themselves.

Nor does the figure touch the punks who misbehaved and weren't caught.

When you read about kids stealing cars, breaking into premises, beating up old men and picking on boys wearing glasses, it makes you unhappy. There are too many of them.

You're inclined to forget that the 140 cases represented in juvenile court form a pretty small fraction of the community's 12,000 youngsters from six to 18 who are going to school and who properly rank as juveniles. The decent youngsters—the 90 to 99 per cent, depending on how you draw up your statistics—don't often hit the headlines.

What Keeps Them Decent?

The inclination is to concentrate on the sad apples. But you can't help wondering, sometimes, why some of the good ones who don't seem to have any more opportunities than the sad ones, don't go bad, too. What makes them stay the kind of youngster you like to see, the kind you figure is an asset to your district, the kind you enjoy talking to, or kidding, when you meet on the street or at the corner store?

Most of the welfare workers attribute the strong core of decency in such boys or girls to home environment—to the affection and security their parents give them. And those same welfare workers are quick to point out that it isn't a matter of money in the house. The son or daughter of rich parents can be as badly neglected as children whose fathers and mothers can just get by on the family pay cheque.

The big job has to be done in the home.

When it isn't done there, a number of local organizations offer a helping hand.

Dave Lewis, who doesn't recall being a little Lord Fauntleroy himself, can tell you some interesting incidents. The Optimists' Club has encountered in its work with boys. When the outfit first started it had window trouble.

"Boy," says Dave, "the first week we had 78 windows broken in the place we were using as headquarters. We replaced all of them. The next week, we had 78 windows broken, and we replaced them, too. You wouldn't believe it, but the third week we had another 78 windows broken—every one in the place. There was a kid out there who could heave rocks straight'n I could shoot a rifle. Then we caught him."

The Optimists talked the problem over, decided to keep the kid out of court and see what they could do with him. They looked into his background, helped the family a little, and showed the kid and his parents somebody was interested in them. The approach worked.

"That kid's one of the best we've got in the district," Dave says now.

Self-Support Encouraged

In the new hobby shop the Optimists are trying to get boys' clubs to be self-supporting. The youngsters can use the equipment and are encouraged to sell what they make to keep their own little groups financially sound. And the Optimists want other clubs interested in boys' work to use the hobby centre, too—just so long as they're doing something for boys.

Eric Elwell will tell you how Bert Pearson, on the Saanich police force, is going about the job of handling youngsters. Bert, says Eric, has young people who seemed to be heading for crime a few years ago, still visiting his home to talk things over and keep straight. The youngsters are older now—old enough to have become tough criminals if they hadn't been checked. Instead, they're decent citizens probably because Pearson proved to them they weren't outcasts—that somebody thought something of them.

Eric has his own opinions about the value of a farm in keeping kids straight. Give a youngster a lamb to hold and he or she can't help but hold it gently, he says. Let the small fry grow up with animals close at hand and a sense of understanding and decency seems to grow in them, he adds.

We're going to have our juveniles with certain kinks, even if some of the experts say there's no such thing as a bad boy, only an unfortunate one. And while we're trying to straighten out some of the twisted, it's comforting, occasionally, to remember what's being done to keep more than nine out of 10 kids straight. They aren't being neglected as badly as some people think.

Student Help Being Planned For Christmas Rush On Shops

Victoria's National Employment Office is prepared to give employers "student help" during the Christmas rush. C. A. Mudge, manager, reported today.

"The N.E.S. will distribute the available jobs to the schools and will notify students of openings through the school principals and counsellors," said Mudge.

The N.E.S. also is compiling a list of anyone who wishes to accept temporary post office work. More names are needed to meet the anticipated demand, Mudge said.

He said there is a good demand for fully-qualified stenographers, but other types of vacancies are scarce. The women's section of the N.E.S. office reported.

The men's section said there are jobs available for highly skilled men as patternmakers, loftsmen, hosiery machine operators and auto body men. Jobs available in other Vancouver Island areas include first-aid men, tire vulcanizers and articles junior clerks.

Egypt Expels U.S. Newsmen For Reporting

CAIRO, Dec. 3 (AP).—The interior ministry today cancelled the Egyptian residence visa of Fred Zussy, Associated Press chief of bureau in Cairo. Cairo press reports charged him with "bad faith" in his news reports.

An official of the ministry's passport division told Zussy that he must leave Egypt on or before Friday by order of Interior Minister Fouad Serag El Din.

The official declined to explain whether the order was prompted by reports Zussy had written. It was the first official notice to the American of the expulsion order—news of which was carried in Cairo's press today.

These reports were confirmed Sunday night by Abdel Basit Al Haggagi, director of the press department of the interior ministry, who said Zussy's expulsion was ordered because of "bad faith" in his reporting. He said Zussy had been warned "several times" that his work was "aimed at harming the interests of Egypt."

Zussy denied receiving any such warnings.

The American embassy in Cairo said today it "had made representations" to the Egyptian foreign office about the visa cancellation. This step was taken without any request from the Associated Press office in Cairo.

(This dispatch, sent through Egyptian censorship, did not specify what Zussy had done or written to be charged with "bad faith." The Associated Press headquarters in New York has received no indication or complaint that Zussy had been doing any more than discharging his obligation to cover the news.)

Germany May Make Arms Again

BONN, Germany, Dec. 3 (AP).

—Some Allied occupation authorities are considering resurrecting the German arms industry to help equip Atlantic defense forces.

With American arms output lagging, some influential occupation officials are suggesting that the West must tap the rich industrial Ruhr for armaments, along with German manpower, to "tip" the military balance against Russia.

A responsible Allied source said today one Allied leader in Germany already has proposed to his government that the West should permit full-scale German arms production. He declined to identify the official or his government.

This source said the argument runs like this:

Mass production of tanks, planes and artillery would speed up the equipping of 12 German divisions planned for the European army.

The Germans could also help equip the armies of Italy, Belgium and the Netherlands, which now are receiving weapons from Canada and the United States. This would insure Britain and France priority on American arms shipments.

PIGS, HENS HELPING Latest Cost Of Living Index Due For Issue

OTTAWA, Dec. 3 (CP).—Pigs and hens are helping to apply the brakes to a record climb in living costs.

With pork and eggs now reaching peak production, prices of the two items have eased. Lower pork and egg prices helped take most of the steam out of September's cost-of-living index rise.

How successful the hens and pigs will be in October, will be disclosed Tuesday when the Bureau of Statistics issues its latest survey of the prices barometer.

During September the index made the smallest climb in five months—six-tenths of a point to a peak of 190.4. This compared with the record monthly climb of 4.5 points in February. The index is based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100.

During that month, the bureau observed, lower pork and egg prices offset gains in other food items to push down the food sub-index for the second consecutive month.

So far this year, the index has made one climb after another, boosting the index 15.2 points from 190.4 in 1950 to 205.6 in January.

But lately a new trend appears to be developing on the price horizon. The bureau reports that during October, wholesale prices declined for the third successive month. The general index, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, declined to 205.6 in October from 206.1 in September and 206.5 in August. In July it was 204.2.

Satellite Street in Oak Bay was named for H.M.S. Satellite, a screw corvette of 1,462 tons and 21 guns which was based at the Esquimalt station from 1857 to 1860 under command of Capt. James Provost.

In 1860 the Satellite ran aground on a reef when entering Nanaimo harbor. Two years later when Capt. Richards re-surveyed the harbor he called the reef Satellite.

In addition to the Oak Bay Street and the Nanaimo harbor rock, the corvette's name has also been given to Satellite Pass in Barclay Sound and Satellite Channel which separates the north end of the Saanich Peninsula from Salt Spring Island.

American Army Plane Reported Forced Down In Communist Hungary; Accused Of Spying

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The U.S. state department said today the United States will take "immediate action" to free the four-man crew and an American army plane reported forced down in Communist Hungary.

The department at the same time rejected a Moscow charge that the plane was carrying equipment to help anti-Communist "spies and saboteurs" behind the Iron Curtain. The blankets, parachutes, maps and portable radio on the plane were described as standard emergency equipment.

The C-47 with its crew of four disappeared Nov. 19, on a flight from Munich to Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

Five Hurt In Holiday Collisions

Five persons received minor hurts in a series of Victoria and Saanich traffic accidents during the week-end.

Raymond Gresham, 1905 Duchess, was treated in hospital for an injured wrist at 1 Sunday morning. Police said the bicycle he was riding was in collision with rear of a car driven by Thomas H. Hubbard, 331 Quebec, on Yates.

About $500 damage was done to cars in charge of Charles D. Davis, 3975 Wilkenson, and Catherine W. Anderson, 89 Burnside, when they collided in Saanich Sunday afternoon. Crash occurred at Darwin and Saanich Roads.

Lesser damage was done in a Saanich accident a few minutes earlier at Douglas and Ralph between cars driven by Hugh R. Burkmarr, 3898 Lancaster, and Frank E. Smith, 230 King George Terrace.

Charles S. McIntyre, 68, of 3329 Linwood, sustained slight cuts and bruises to the head in Saturday accident. Police said the car he was driving was in collision with one in control of Maurice R. Williams, 1446 Wende.

A bruised right leg was suffered by Mrs. Stanley Watkins, 2870 Ashby, when she was in collision with the rear of a car while crossing Broad and Johnson Saturday.

John J. Harris, 710 St. Patrick, and a passenger, received cuts and bruises in a Poul Bay-Fairfield Saturday crash. Police said the Harris car was in collision with one driven by J. H. McIlveen, 873 Oliver. The Harris car was bowled over. Damage was extensive.

Sharon Beswick, eight, of Den-cross Crescent, was treated at a hospital for bruises when she was in collision with a car driven by Andrew Ustick, 535 Hillside, Saturday afternoon at Government and Pandora.

Police reported damage done in the following week-end collisions between cars driven by Doris Webb, 3890 Cadboro Bay, and John Osadchuk, 545 Hillside; Andrew J. Smith, 345 Atkins and P. A. Fitzsimmons, 3608 Douglas; Ronald J. Simmons, 873 Vernon, and Clarence Budynski, 56 Cadillac; Robert Bowman, Duncan, and A. Crawford, 3074 Orillia, taximan.

Kenney Won't Give Forests To Commission

The government is not intending to turn over management of British Columbia forests to a commission as recommended in the Sloan report, Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney said Saturday.

He was replying to the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association and the B.C. Truck Loggers' Association which contend formation of a commission is an essential part of the report.

Kenney said the government didn't intend to turn over the province's forest resources to a body not responsible to anybody.

"We represent the people who are owners of the forests, not vested interests," said the minister.

Toronto Men Face Exchange Charges

TORONTO, Dec. 3 (BUP)—Two Toronto men, one a prominent mining promoter, faced 14 charges of violating Foreign Exchange Control Board regulations today.

Bryan W. Newkirk, mining promoter, and Benjamin Litman, operator of an athletic club, will face a Toronto magistrate Dec. 7 on the charges, Joseph Gould, control board counsel, said.

Gould said both R.C.M.P. and U.S. F.B.I. agents had been working on the case.

Newkirk, a native of the United States, was charged with purchasing American currency from an unauthorized dealer and failure to declare American funds in his possession. Litman also faced similar charges, Gould said.

Volunteer Labor Helps Put Camp In Shape

Western Powers Fail To Nail Vishinsky To A-Weapon Question

PARIS, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Western powers tried today to pin down Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky on whether Russia would agree that the prohibition of atomic weapons and the start of international atomic control could become effective simultaneously. They got no answer.

Following a secret two and one-half-hour disarmament discussion among the Big Four—Russia, Britain, France and the United States—a western spokesman said U.S. delegate Philip Jessup asked Vishinsky:

"Would the Soviet Union admit inspectors the very day after the United Nations General Assembly passed a resolution on prohibition?"

Vishinsky did not reply, he said.

The west maintains that there can be no unconditional prohibition of atomic weapons without a foolproof international inspection system to guarantee obedience. Russia demands immediate prohibition of the bomb and then discussions of controls.

However, western sources described the meeting, under the chairmanship of U.N. Assembly President Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico, as "helpful" and held in a "sober and constructive atmosphere."

The three spokesmen, representing Britain, France and the United States, told a joint press conference that the Big Four began a paragraph-by-paragraph dissection of the three-power disarmament resolution and the Soviet amendments.

There was no news from the Soviet delegation which took part in the meeting.

Disaster Manual Guide In Defense In Red Cross Work

The Red Cross here has received copies of the new publication, "Disaster Services Manual."

The book will be used by Red Cross workers as a guide in disaster work and incorporates lessons learned from recent catastrophes in Canada and the United States.

Prepared by the National Disaster Services Committee, it also outlines policies of the committee, duties at divisional, zone and branch levels and pre-disaster planning.

The 62-page publication includes sections on food, clothing, transport, communications and medical and nursing aid.

THERE WAS NO SHELTER

Mayhew Hugs Ground During Red Barrage

OTTAWA, Dec. 3 (CP)—"What's so unusual about a shelter? The boys in Korea go through it all the time."

That was Robert Mayhew's reply today to a question of how he felt about the Communist artillery barrages which pinned him to the ground during his five-day tour of the Korean battlefield.

The 71-year-old federal fisheries minister, returning to this capital after an absence of six weeks, including trips to Japan and Korea, said in an interview that he would rather talk about the Canadian troops than the barrages.

"They're the best-fed army in the world and the morale is very high. The boys are very, very cheerful—and they're ready to tackle anything twice their size."

The Victoria industrialist, who went to Tokyo to negotiate a new fisheries agreement with Japan, said he just couldn't leave without seeing Canada's 25th Brigade in action.

He visited the hospitals and the leave centres and then decided to visit the front lines.

Mr. Mayhew said merely that

On Bribing The Public

THE NATIONAL SIGNIFICANCE OF the recent Ontario election is just beginning to sink into the consciousness of politicians in all parts of the country. One hopes it will sink deep.

In recent times most politicians have accepted the dangerous axiom that the only way to get elected is to offer bribes to the voters. The candidate or party promising the largest expenditure—always, of course, with a reduction in taxes—will win, according to this theory.

In the Ontario election the theory was put to a clear test.

Premier Frost promised virtually nothing but sound and economical government. The Liberal party under Mr. Walter Thomson promised everything it could think of, including universal hospital insurance, subsidies on milk, hogs, cheese and cattle, a large low-rental housing scheme, a gigantic road program, individual homes for the aged and much else. It is calculated that these plans would cost $350 millions a year and would more than double the provincial budget. Yet Mr. Thomson promised not to increase taxes at all and to cut the gasoline tax in half. And, of course, as is customary, he assailed the government for extravagance.

The C.C.F. could not quite match Mr. Thomson's unlimited promises, but it did its best.

According to the established theory of bribing the public with its own money, Mr. Frost's position was hopeless. By the familiar calculations of politics he was beaten before he started. But it turns out that the Liberals and the C.C.F.

rated the public intelligence far too low. The people of Ontario returned Mr. Frost with the largest majority received by any party since Confederation, reduced the Liberal strength in the legislature, defeated Mr. Thomson, the great promoter, and practically destroyed the C.C.F. outright.

Apart altogether from party considerations this is one of the most encouraging commentaries on the democratic process in the recent history of Canada. It shows that the people of Canada's largest province are still capable of simple arithmetic, and know that the bills for all state expenditure and are tired of being told that governmental budgets can go perpetually up while taxes go down. In short, they reject the bribe.

This lesson, one hopes, will not be lost on the politicians of British Columbia who, for a long time, have conducted their own auction sale of election promises.

The people of this province, we suppose, are as intelligent as those of Ontario, are just as hard pressed by taxes and, indeed, are taxed twice as heavily on a per capita basis for provincial government. We do not believe that they are looking for a government which promises everything for nothing but for the kind of businesslike administration which Mr. Frost is providing. His overwhelming success at the polls should encourage our politicians to imitate his policies and his refusal to delude the public in a search for votes. In the end the votes will go to the party which deserves them.

Dwindling British Immigration

RECENTLY CANADA RECEIVED from Princess Elizabeth a graceful and sincere tribute which should rank highly as a spur to immigration from the British Isles. Speaking to a Guildhall audience, she said:

"I hope that the people of the United Kingdom will continue to go out as they have in the past to make their life beside the fine men and women who form the nation of Canada as it is today. I am sure that nowhere under the sun could one find a land more full of hope, of happiness and of fine, loyal, generous-hearted people."

"I do not believe one can return from Canada without a new sense of faith in the progress of mankind. For none of the doubts, disillusion nor difficulties that face us on this troubled continent are going to hold back the Canadians. They are going to ensure for themselves the survival of those things for which we have fought in this country through the ages and which we treasure—justice, liberty, opportunity for all, and kindness between man and man. And by so doing they are going to ensure this for others, too."

Princess Elizabeth's tribute was no less glowing than that of Mr. Churchill, who proposed the toast to the Royal couple at the Guildhall function. In his opinion "there are no limits to the majestic future which lies before the mightiest expanse of Canada with its virile, cultured and generous-hearted people."

These are fine and sincere sentiments, opportunely expressed. They come at a time when Canada's attention has been drawn to the fact that this country's net gain of British immigrants last year was far below that of Australia or New Zealand. Of the total going to Commonwealth countries, Australia received a net gain of 77 per cent, New Zealand more than 12 per cent and Canada less than 11 per cent.

Figures released by Immigration Minister Harris last week show a substantial increase in both the number of British immigrants and those from other countries coming to Canada during the first nine months of this year. Newcomers from the United Kingdom to the end of September more than doubled the total for the equivalent period in 1950. At the same time the aggregate from all countries—129,885—was 73,635 above that for the similar months last year.

On that basis, the percentage of British immigrants coming in remains only about one-sixth of the total, as it was in 1950—a substantial drop from the year 1948, when approximately one-third of our newcomers arrived from the United Kingdom.

Material factors favor British immigration to Australia and New Zealand. Both are in the sterling area and do not suffer the impediments encountered in Canada, to which United Kingdom citizens have difficulty in bringing their money. Moreover, the two countries "down under" have attractive transportation arrangements for new settlers.

The trend is not without significance. Canada needs more settlers despite the murmurs of certain labor organizations. It is receiving a substantial volume of newcomers. But it is apparently not receiving its share of those from Britain. Perhaps the words of Princess Elizabeth and Mr. Churchill will serve as an encouragement to increase the flow to this country.

No Early Completion

THE FACT THAT CANADA'S DETERMINATION to proceed alone with the great St. Lawrence Seaway development "is no bluff"—as Trade Minister Howe puts it—does not mean that the way is cleared for an early start.

Many Canadians reading of Ottawa's decision, after years of rebuffs by the United States Congress to proposals for joint action, have supposed that it was now merely a matter of providing the money and doing the work. Provision of funds, of course, will be formidable enough for a nation of this size, although authorities say the $700 million investment is within our capacity. The red tape, however, is another matter.

Since the St. Lawrence is largely an international waterway, agreement to the plan, even without direct participation, must be obtained from the United States. Ontario and New York State must reach accord on the hydro-electric phase of the scheme.

Quebec province will also feature in negotiations regarding power rights and navigation. Finally, the International Joint Commission, charged with jurisdiction in all agreements affecting lakes and rivers of concern to both neighboring countries, must give consent to the project.

This all adds up to prolonged discussion, probably involving many delays and disappointments. As Mr. Howe points out, it would still be preferable for the United States to come in as a partner, for while Canada could handle it alone, a joint project by the two countries would cut many legal difficulties and speed construction.

Labor Sets An Example

A BROAD HUMANITARIAN VISION and a fine sense of the dignity of man are implied in the decision of the Trades and Labor Congress and the Canadian Congress of Labor trades councils here to form a joint committee to prepare action against racial discrimination.

In this community few instances of intolerance to Canadians of other than white origin occur. Our racial minorities have merited and won public esteem. The harmonious relationships which exist have furnished little ground for public complaint.

However, there have been cases in which some of our citizens have shown an improper bias. There have been occasions on which the sensibilities of some of our people have been slighted and some discrimination has been shown. Whenever racism raises its head, it should be knocked down.

It is particularly significant that the labor bodies have expressed their determination to combat any recurrence of these minor but unfortunate incidents. One of the causes of discrimination lies in different standards of living which people of alien origin adopt when they first come to our shores and before they are properly integrated in the population. Labor seems to have recognized that point officially. The decision it has taken shows a broad outlook on the question and one which does credit to Greater Victoria.

Glamorous Journey

THERE IS SOMETHING FUNDAMENTAL and deeply satisfying about the London news item which reports that Gilbert Harris, a goat farmer of Warwickshire, is planning to forsake his labors and set off in search of the lost city of Shabwa, the ancient fortress of the Queen of Sheba.

The background of the plan is irrelevant—how the former R.A.F. officer believes he once flew over the site when engaged in air duties in Saudi Arabia. The point is that what he is doing is basic, human and eternal. Jason and the Golden Fleece, Mr. Gilbert Harris and the city of Shabwa, are really one and the same person.

The flight from drab reality—and what better point of departure could there be than a goat farm?—the understandings of the daily round of gainful occupation, the adventurous soaring into the world of fantasy and magic, these are the important things. Mr. Harris is doing what all of us would, if we had the time, the money, the daring—any of the innumerable qualities whose lack, we complain, prevents us.

But it is only the Jason, the Harris, the occasional seeker after buried treasure, who makes the break with convention, climbs out of the rut and sails off to a glamorous destiny.

The rest of us huddle fearfully in our shelters, going through the motions of existence, but finding real living only in our dreams. Only in them are we the shining figures we might have been. Only in them do we turn our backs on the goat farm and ride forth to find the lost city of the Queen of Sheba.

LOOSE ENDS

Do Not Disturb

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

IT APPEARS that some of the garbage regularly conveyed from my household to Mrs. Noggins' chickens was wrapped this week in discarded copies of Hansard, the stenographic record of the Canadian Parliament.

After reading this accidental wrapper Mrs. Noggins informed me today that the statements at Ottawa obviously were not as smart as people supposed.

"I bin readin' their speeches," she stated, "and I can see that those fellows in Parliament are makin' the greatest mistake of their lives when they imagine that people want prices to go down. They don't want prices to go down. They want everything to stay just where it is. Why, as soon as one price wavers a little every business man in the country screams blue murder, all the newspapers announce a depression and 200 fellows lost their jobs in the cigarette factories back east we're told that the nation is hellbent into an unemployment problem."

"Oh, yes, I dare say a few people want prices to go down, so long as it isn't their price. Every fellow wants the other fellow's price to go down. But 'e wants 'is own raised, and, of course, we want powerful defenses for the nation so long as it don't cost nothin'.

Under the skin we're all isolationists, as Uncle 'Erbert said when they locked 'im in solitary confinement. Everybody lives in 'is own private little world and wants no foreign entanglements. It's the world that's crazy, not us."

"SO IF YOU scratch a free enterpriser you find a fellow who wants 'is prices protected by a tariff or some other government gimmick. Scratch a socialist and you find a fellow who wants freedom to do wotever 'e likes so long as the government controls everybody else. Scratch anybody and you find a fellow who wants the laws of economics courageously enforced against 'is neighbor."

"So it seems that the great boom all over America is showin' some tiny cracks 'ere and there but they don't amount to much. And wot did we expect? We wanted the binge but we didn't want the 'ang-over. As 'Erbert always said, I never feel the slightest pain when I'm drinkin', only afterwards. I 'ave, said 'Erbert, no moral objection whatever to liquor but I'm opposed by life-long principles to 'eadaches. This sobriety, 'e says, not intoxication wot 'urts, but I must say 'e never suffered from it very often."

"WELL, there's no 'ope for any government, whether the temperance is goin' up or down. When it goes up we all scream against 'igh prices. When it goes down we scream still louder about a recession. Both ways, up or down, we blame the doctor. You might say the government is crucified on its own clinical thermometer."

"So wot do we want the government to do? Why, to leave us be, of course. Do not disturb, that's the motto, and a good one if you can do the trick, but 'tis difficult in a world that won't lay still for a moment. All we ask is a comfortable rigidity but the trouble is, government or no government, we never get it till we're in a coffin. But the policy of rigor mortis is mighty popular among folks these days, provided they can enjoy it while they're still alive, which isn't easy."

"THE REAL trouble with life is that it 'as to be lived, with all the change and inconvenience. If you could only henjoy the comfortable stability of the grave while still walkin' around 'ow much better that would be. The trouble is you can't 'ave it both ways. You can't walk and lay still at the same time. But if any polycitizen mentions that fact 'e won't get heeded."

"WELL, I see in the papers that some shingle mills is closed because they can't sell their shingles at the present price and the fellows wot make electric gadgets are in the same fix. I jest wonder, wistful like but not serious, of course, whether maybe they might think of gettin' the price down so I could put on a new roof instead of the one that's leakin' right over my bathtub, which does no 'arm, but feels chilly on the back. I jest wonder if they could sell me a electric toaster that I could afford to buy in place of the old one that's plumb wore out, same as me."

"BUT NO, sir. We don't want lower prices. We jest want to complain against 'igh ones that the other fellow charges. And that's why I'm 'opin' for a cheap roof and a new toaster but am I cuttin' the price of my eggs to my customers? No, sir, over my dead body they'll be rejected, for eggs is sacred, and so is everything else, too sacred fer use."

Singing Kettles

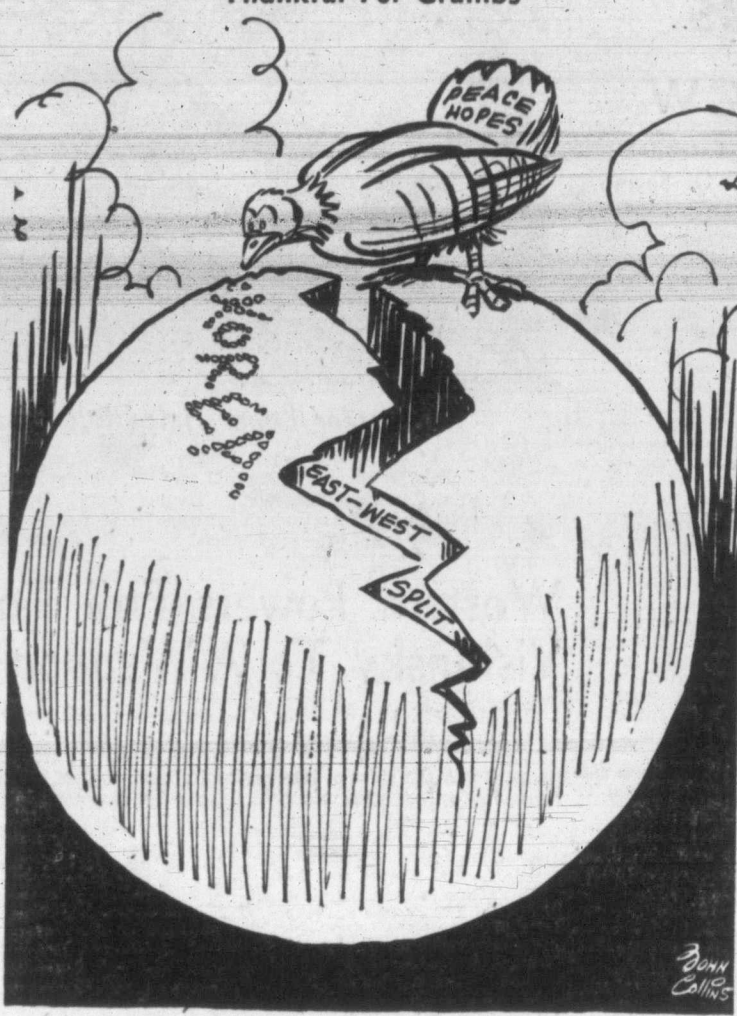

Windsor Star

There is a sound one seldom hears now in modern urban kitchens, or at least not for very long at a time. That is the sibilant sound of a kettle singing on the stove.

The reason, of course, is to be found in the type of stoves in use, electric or gas. A kettle is brought quickly to the boil on them and then the heat is turned off. Otherwise it is a waste of money.

With the old wood or coal stoves, it was different. The kettle could be left on as, in the winter time, the fire would be on anyway for heating purposes. Thus the kettle could sit and sing and provide a homey touch to the kitchen. There was the added advantage of always having boiling water, provided the kettles were big enough and kept filled.

CANADIAN FLAG

The Lions' Club of Canada's design makes a fair effort to represent our British and French origins in one new Canadian flag.

I am much in favor of a Canadian flag, but it should be built up, as was the Union Jack, to represent the union of races, in this case, the French and British.

As I am not ashamed of my ancestors, I see no reason for removing all trace of British red from my Canadian flag.

The Young Liberal design of blue and white stripes should be excellent, in a tea cloth!

THE SCHOOL QUESTION

The information advanced by Double Ratepayer is very enlightening and it is amply demonstrated that the Catholic ratepayer is being "taken for a ride."

I would like to know if any British democracy or any segment of the Commonwealth so grossly disregards the Declaration of Human Rights? I would certainly like to know what privileges Protestant separate schools have in Quebec.

It seems that the problem of both Protestant and Catholic separate schools has been settled in all provinces except B.C. It is time to make progress and have the injustice to our fellow citizens rectified.

VICTORIA RATEPAYER

TO THE FRONT

Being a native of Victoria all my life, naturally anything with a home town quality interests me. So for some years I have watched the gradual rise to the top of Victoria's fine western group "The Homesteaders."

These boys, under the genial leadership of Fred Usher, have gone all out in every way to aid all home-town talent, and when it comes to entertaining patients at the hospitals, etc., they are always there to do their bit.

Help the "Homesteaders" take a "little bit of Victoria" to our tired and weary boys and hear these boys say, "Gee, but it's great to meet a friend from your home town!"

MRS. L. NOEL

Helmecken Road.

VANCOUVER S.P.C.A.

What a strange anomaly, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals sanctioning the transference of dogs from the City Pound to be tortured on the vivisection table!

No wonder the world today is going through such terrible tribulation. How could it be otherwise when evil is permitted to operate in the guise of good. One of the world's most flagrant evils is the practice of vivisection. They say a nation is judged by its treatment of animals. In what category does that place us?

Eminent physicians and surgeons have put themselves on record as being strongly opposed to vivisection, and have exposed its uselessness and utter brutality.

MOST HELPFUL

Through the medium of your "Letters to the Editor," may we convey our grateful thanks to an anonymous donor (or donors) for a cash donation of $6.50, which was left in our office last week.

Many of our patients are quite unable to contribute towards the cost of their treatments, and these voluntary donations are most helpful in keeping the clinics and treatments available to arthritis sufferers.

J. O. JONES,
Secretary, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

POLITICS AND POTABLES

"Only fools write letters to the paper," so says Col. A. G. B. Lewis. He is no doubt referring chiefly to those who snipe at Mr. Anscomb? It is most unfortunate that our public men have at times put up with abuse, innuendo, and backbiting that is often most unwarranted. A lot of really good capable men shun high political office for that reason.

I have known Herb Anscomb for 31 years, and have yet to find even the slightest hint of dishonesty from him. His interests in the Growers Wine Corporation are considered by some as a cause for abuse, let us not forget that he has helped to build up a B.C. industry from its infancy to success.

I feel sure that he is quite willing to leave the decision as to whether or not U.S. wines should be sold in B.C. to the authorities who are responsible for it. Let's have fair play.

FRANK H. PARTRIDGE.

ADDED TARIFF

You have done a public service by calling attention to the situation regarding California wines; but will you give publicity to the much more serious matter of the pricing of Scotch whisky, etc.

The federal government gives a preference to domestic spirits by imposing an extra tax on imports, as it is entitled to do. But apparently the liquor board then puts a substantially higher mark-up on imported spirits than on the domestic ones in order to give an added preference above that allowed by the federal government.

This was stated to be the case in the course of a debate in the provincial Legislature and, I believe, in this case also the reason was given that it was done in agreement with the other liquor boards in Canada.

At a time when, in order to maintain Canada's trade, it is necessary to increase imports from Britain, it is surely a poor policy for the liquor board to get up what is in effect a tariff wall of their own against such imports.

Living On Credit

WHO UNDERSTANDS

I read with interest and amusement your paper's account of Dr. Ewing's lecture on Social Credit addressed to the Young Liberals' Association. Dr. Ewing, a self-professed Liberal lecturer on a subject such as Social Credit could be likened to Molotov lecturing on Christianity at one of his cocktail parties.

Dr. Ewing states that there is not an economist on earth who can understand the financial theories of Social Credit. That statement is not entirely correct. Most economists are educated directly or indirectly by the admittedly socialist London School of Economics. Most economists, moreover, are representing financial institutions directly or indirectly.

Obviously the financing institutions are going to refute any theory which is going to endanger their world-wide control of money. Don't think for one moment that they do not understand the Social Credit proposals.

Dr. Ewing states that the great enemy today of Social Credit is the socialist. I, as a "Douglas" Social Crediter, am very proud of that fact. I would also like to reverse the statement and say that "the only" enemy today of socialism is the "Douglas" Social Crediter.

M. F. LOUGHEED,
1406 Douglas Street.

USE YOUR BRAINS

If Dr. Ewing relies on the orthodox economists to do his thinking for him in regard to Social Credit he should note at least two things. First, no one has yet disproved Douglas' mathematical solution showing why the present system of debiting ourselves with the result of our increase not self-liquidating. Second, that economists like Keynes, Murdoch and Leacock recanted their earlier teaching and while not using the words Social Credit did in fact endorse its main findings. Leacock, who taught economics for 40 years in our universities, had this to say:

"Don't let it unduly impress you that Mr. So-and-So is a medalist on political science at such-and-such a university. The whole science of economics is a wreck. There is as much light in the older economics as there is in a glow-worm. Economics as taught is the history of disproved theories. Therefore, use your brains on the evidence before you."

Possibly Dr. Ewing might do just that.

MAJOR A. H. JUKES,
"Vines," Saanichton, V.I.

WISHFUL THINKING

As a result of the splendid record and laudatory achievements by the Alberta Social Credit government there appears to be a rash of wishful thinking. This is indulged in by some members of other political parties.

Doubtless they find it against their grain, when they must perforce give credit to a Social Credit administration which stands head and shoulders above all others in Canada. Granting that the credit is somewhat grudgingly given, along with an inclination to be somewhat envious; because such admirable administration did not emanate from their particular brand of political persuasion.

They hasten to explain it is the kind of good government their political party would give, if they could but clean up the middle class into which their stalwarts have enmeshed them. Such a weak approach to a very important matter leaves much to be desired. Verily it indicates a very fuzzy way of thinking. Could it be there is a lack of fortitude to face facts?

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"WERE HEARING," said the Elevator Man, "a lot these days about the lack of general information among the public. A quarter of McGill's new university students were accused of not knowing who the prime minister of Canada is, although this figure was later reduced somewhat. American college students don't know who their president is, how many people their country has, or how to tell time by the clock."

What's worse, they don't seem to know why they ought to know these things. And after you reach a certain point, it's hard to explain just why they must. Because if they can grow up and become successful business men and women, model members of the community, why do they need to know anything more than how to dress themselves, find their way to a restaurant and catch the right bus or taxi home to rest up for another day of knowing nothing. Going down!

"After all," said the Elevator Man, "if you don't count in the pleasures of advanced cultural appreciation—the fun of knowing something about music or books or painting or making mantel ornaments out of drift wood—there isn't much need to know anything these days. You can always find an employer who'll be glad to give a job to an empty head that won't cause trouble by trying to be enterprising. You can always find a politician who'll run the country for you, preferably without any help. The world is full of people who love to run other folks' lives and an ignorant person is just the type that gives them joy. With volunteers doing your thinking for you and the welfare state making your smarter neighbors provide you with a living—why bother to learn? Lower main!

"There's just," said the Elevator Man, "one catch. The human organism seems to be cursed with an inherent desire to find out about things. The first amoeba, looking for food, found a little information on his environment was a handy thing to have. It's gone on from there. We've been enlarging the field ever since, getting microscopes and telescopes to help us when our own faculties couldn't. So the urge is there, and won't be denied. It's just up to the individual what he's going to expend it on. He can become an expert on spectro-analysis or on the doings of Dick Tracy, on impressionist art or Mrs. Jones' latest scandal. Whatever it is, his mind is going to be full of something. He just can't help it. It's just up to you whether you fill your pockets with silver coins or lead slugs. Lead seems to be in the mode at the moment."

HUMBER'S
BEHIND THE NEW POST OFFICE

Would Release Meyer For Fight

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 3 (CP).—Bruce J. S. Macdonald, Canada's chief prosecutor at the war-crimes trial of Kurt Meyer, thinks Meyer should be freed from prison if the Canadian government is satisfied he would fight in a western European army.

But Mr. Macdonald, now crown attorney for Essex county, in a statement Sunday night defended the legality of the trial at which the German major-general was convicted of responsibility for the killing of Canadian prisoners.

He said he has no doubt that Meyer was legally convicted in the killing of 18 Canadians within 100 metres of Meyer's command post in Normandy in 1944, but he feels "the matter should be dealt with realistically."

Meyer, 42, now is serving a life sentence. He recently was transferred from the penitentiary at Dorchester, N.B., to a British military prison in Germany. Last week he was allowed to go home on 10 days' compassionate leave but returned to prison Sunday.

The news that Meyer was visiting his wife and family stirred a controversy that has flared intermittently in Canada since Meyer's sentence was commuted from death to life imprisonment.

"The present situation is largely the result of lack of frankness at Ottawa and is intolerable," said Mr. Macdonald. "The Meyer issue stands to do all that our troops are trying to accomplish in good-will in Germany at the present time."

"Let us have a reference to the Supreme Court if that can settle the matter. Or, if thoroughly satisfied of his present reliability, then release Meyer to work with us for peace or victory if necessary in the future. In that way, he can better expiate his misdeeds than by languishing in a prison. Those who suffered most from them, I am sure, would prefer it that way."

He had been in touch with Clarence Campbell, of Montreal, his assistant at the trial and now president of the National Hockey League, who was in complete agreement with his views.

He said he had not intended to say anything about Meyer's return to Germany. But a statement given last week by Dalton Dean of Halleybury, Ont., who also assisted him at the trial, called for consideration.

Seriously Ill

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Dec. 3 (AP).—Bob Quinn, curator of baseball's Hall of Fame of Cooperstown, N.Y., and former owner of Boston Braves, has been confined to hospital for four days. The hospital would not say what Quinn's illness was, but reported the 51-year-old baseball figure was seriously ill.

1951 Tourist Business Said Better Than 1950

OTTAWA, Dec. 3 (BUP)—The nation's tourist industry did more business this year than last, and government officials said today they expected even better things in 1952.

The sixth Dominion-Provincial Tourist conference received no overall figures on the number of tourists who vacationed in Canada this year, but all reporting agencies said business had been better than in 1950.

Airlines, autobus, railway and steamship companies all said traffic was up.

Ontario, long the nation's biggest tourist playground, did not have its figures ready for the three-day conference opening today, and neither did New Brunswick nor Newfoundland.

Quebec led the provinces which were able to present definite reports. It announced that 4,380,000 tourists vacationed in the province and created about $142,300,000 in revenue.

British Columbia had 1,400,000 visitors for $63,000,000, Alberta 1,150,000 for $26,500,000; Manitoba 650,000 for $25,000,000, Nova Scotia had an unannounced revenue from more than 300,000 tourists, Saskatchewan 130,000 for $4,000,000, and Prince Edward Island 70,000 for $3,500,000.

In every case, the number of tourists was up from 1950 or equal to last year. Officials reported that their provinces would spend as much or more money next year to attract visitors, and were confident that the 1951 figure would be topped.

How Much Binding Around This Box?

Most everyone will recognize at a glance that pretty Beverly Johnston is holding two boxes of Jap oranges. But who can guess how much twine there is around them? Even wholesale men who have handled thousands of the small-sized crates didn't know until they measured. To their surprise they found fibre binding on each box came to 60 feet. Apparently Japanese believe if a thing's worth tying, it's worth tying well. (Times photo.)

Blaze A Day, Firemen Say Certain Cure For 'Ennu'

Many calls and little damage is the way Saanich Fire Department describes 1951.

According to Fire Chief Joseph Law the department has already made 363 runs, 77 more than last year, but has kept losses to date to $30,000. Losses last year were $54,924.

"We have never had so much activity before," the chief said. He and his crew are now hoping they can complete the year without a bad fire and maintain their excellent record.

Apart from fire-fighting, greatest activity of the department is checking oil burners and new buildings. To date this year 1,769 calls have been made.

Sisters To Sing For Odeon Club's Saturday Show

Odeon Movie Club fans will be entertained Saturday, Dec. 8, by 11-year-old Maurine Shea and her sister, Patricia, 6, who will present vocal selections, Norman Reay, Plaza Theatre manager, announced today.

The children are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Shea, of 2228 Rutledge. The Sheas arrived here a few months ago from Halifax. Shea served as an engineer aboard the carrier Magnificent and is now stationed at the naval dockyard here.

Maurine will sing a solo at the club show, held at the Plaza beginning at 10 a.m., and the two will join in a vocal duet.

Reay said he also hopes to have dancing students perform at the Dec. 8 show.

LANGFORD—Prince Edward Branch, Canadian Legion, and the women's auxiliary will meet Tuesday evening at 8 at the club rooms, Dunford Road.

IN HOLLYWOOD Energetic Bob Hope Says TV Hardest Work He's Done

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 1 (AP)—

All in a week's work:
—Out to Lockheed airport, where Bob Hope was leaving on yet another tour. The plane was late and ski-nose had some time to chat.

"Imagine me waiting for a plane!" he said. "Usually, it's the other way around." This time he was off to Bellaire, Ohio, where he is premiering "My Favorite Spy" in the home of a contest-winning housewife.

Hope was elated about his latest TV show. But asked if he will give up radio, he said: "Are you kidding? Radio is legalized larceny. It's like taking the money away. But television—man, that is work! It's the hardest work I've ever done."

While waiting for the plane to arrive, Hope sat in a phone booth in the lobby, holding conversations and signing autographs. He talked longingly of getting back to his Palm Springs home for a rest. Tours were a lot of trouble, he opined. But as he left for the wide blue yonder, you could tell he was embarking on the kind of life he likes best.

NATURE FILM
To a special screening of "Earthquake Lake," film made by men who took part in Walt Disney's shorts. This picture goes a little further, being a full-length feature about a naturalist who visits the Reelfoot Lake country in Tennessee.

The story is slight, but the picture again proves that nature study can be fascinating film fare. . . . The week was NBC's blow-out to honor the debut of Dinah Shore's TV show. Among those attending the function at the Beverly Hills Hotel were Ed Wynn, Herbert Marshall, Joan Crawford, Donald O'Connor, furniture maker George Montgomery

Youth Badly Burned When Stove Explodes
PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., Dec. 3 (BUP)—A week-end fire at Portage La Prairie, Manitoba, has sent a 16-year-old Portage youth to hospital with serious facial burns.
The youth, Wilfred Make, sustained the injuries Sunday when a cook stove exploded in his face.

Fire which followed the blast gutted the two-storey home causing damage estimated a $3,000.

OVERTIME VITAL PART OF HOCKEY-BOUCHER

TORONTO, Dec. 2 (CP).—Frank Boucher, general manager of the New York Rangers Hockey Club, Saturday reiterated the opinion that overtime hockey is "a partial solution to the attendance problems which plague three United States teams in the National Hockey League."

He was speaking to a general meeting of the Toronto Hockey League.

"Overtime is a vital part of hockey," he said. "We should reinstitute the 10-minute sudden-death overtime period to convince the fans that we are at least trying to come to a decision."

The former N.H.L. centre star also thought hockey might have to get rid of the centre red line.

"The game of hockey, like all things, should progress. We can get rid of the red line, but there must be something positive to replace it."

Victoria Wests received the benefit of two classy individual efforts Sunday and rolled to a 7-3 victory over Esquimalt in a Victoria and District Football Association game at Athletic Park.

Three Aussie Teams In Tennis Semis

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 3 (AP).—Australians Adrian Quist and Geoff Brown today whipped Dick Savitt and Vic Selas of the United States, 7-5, 8-6, 6-2, in a smashing doubles upset.

This was the highlight of the Victoria tennis championships, which also saw two other Aussie tandems and the American team of Tony Trabert and Ted Schroeder move up.

Schroeder and Trabert made quick work of two Aussie juniors, Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Frank Sedgman and Don Candy of Australia combined to oust the American duo of Frank Shields and Hamilton Richardson, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.

Ken McGregor and Mervyn Rose of Australia eliminated Lennart Bergelin and Sven Davidson of Sweden, 10-8, 6-4, 10-8.

In the semifinals, Quist and Brown meet Sedgman and Candy, while McGregor and Rose tangle with Trabert and Schroeder.

Pakistan Wins Unofficial Test

KARACHI, Pakistan, Dec. 3 (Reuters).—A Pakistan cricket eleven Sunday upset England's touring M.C.C. team, winning an unofficial test match by four wickets.

The match was won by a sixth wicket partnership between Pakistan's captain, R. H. Kardar, and Anwar Hussain, who hit 83 runs in 95 minutes. They came together when Pakistan needed 107 runs to win.

Mount View Hoopsters Have Impressive Record

Sweeping every decision in their seven-game season, the classy Mount View High School junior hoop squad defeated Mount Douglas, 34-26, to take the Inter-High School championship last week. Members of the all-conquering club are, back row, left to right: Dick

MUZZ DOESN'T APPRECIATE $2.50 SUIT

SEATTLE, Dec. 3 (UP).—Coach Muzz Patrick of the Tacoma hockey team said today he would sue Seattle Ironman owner Frank Dotter for a suit.

Patrick is mad because the sleeves of his suit coat were ripped during a scrap with Ironman coach Tony Hermerling at a hockey game between the two teams in Seattle.

Dotter tried to patch things up last night. He found a $2.50 suit in a First Avenue second-hand store and sent King County Sheriff's captain Roy Thorsen to serve Patrick with the suit between periods of last night's Tacoma-Seattle hockey match.

But Patrick declined the offer. "Sorry," he said, "but we don't wear clothes like this in Tacoma."

Aussies Take Lead In Test Cricket Match

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 3 (Reuters).—A record fourth-wicket stand of 235 by Lindsay Hassett (132) and Keith Miller (129) today gave Australia a first-innings lead of 89 with three wickets still in hand over West Indies on the third day of the second cricket test.

At the close, Australia had scored 451 for seven wickets in reply to the West Indies' first-innings total of 362.

Hassett, the Australian captain, and Miller swung the game in favor of Australia. Their stand, which lasted just over four hours, was an Australian fourth-wicket record against West Indies. The previous best was 182 by Alan Kippax and Stan McCabe in 1931.

There are two days left to play. Australia won the first in the best-of-five series to decide world cricket supremacy.

BUCHANAN IN FORM

Alberni was aided greatly by the return of long Joe Buchanan who pushed up 18 points, 12 of them in the Athletic's second-half outburst, and gathered in reams of rebounds.

Coach Norm Baker did not take the loss lightly. He implied it was a result of the team's persistent habit of hurrying the game rather than playing the slow-passing style he likes.

FADE AT FINISH

Hitting their long-ones but missing the rebounds, Vids held Alberni to a 9-9 deadlock at the end of the first quarter and one-handers by Vince Clarkson and Wes Maultsald put them ahead 15-14 with a minute left in the first half. However, Buchanan sank a pretty hook shot and Harry Kermod potted a foul shot to give the winners a 17-15 edge at the intermission.

Buchanan scored eight points in the third quarter to help his club to a 32-26 lead.

Individuals, sparked by Maultsald and Rookie Wright, put on a spirited rally in the last frame and succeeded in tying the score twice, at 32-32 and 35-35 but could not hold the visitors.

Line-up follows:

Alberni—Kermod 4, Lynn 7, Mitchell 4, Buchanan 18, Waugh, Peck, Duranto 4.

Victoria—Maultsald 11, Clarkson 8, Boyce, Peck 4, Maultsald 4, Wright 1, Total 35.

Leafs Close On Wings; Rangers In Double Loss

By Canadian Press

Now that the football season is just a memory for this year, nobody can say that hockey, at least the National League variety, isn't making hay with the sports-page headlines after weeks of playing second fiddle to gridiron goings-on.

The pros came up with their biggest week-end of the N.H.L. campaign with 34 goals in five games, the best (anyway, the longest) free-for-all of the 1951-52 schedule and Max Bentley's 20th National Hockey League goal.

The boys fastened up their averages, particularly Toronto Maple Leafs who picked up 10 goals—a high-powered 8-2 Saturday victory over New York Rangers and a rough-house 2-1 their week-end doubleheader. They defeated Chicago 4-2 Saturday and lost 4-1 at Boston Sunday as the Bruins picked up their first home victory of the season before 8,063 fans.

Toronto Maple Leaf Gardens rocked with the cheers of 13,613 spectators Saturday when Bentley, 31-year-old wheat farmer from Delisle, Sask., bagged the 20th goal of his N.H.L. career which started with the Hawks in the 1940-41 game. The Leafs picked up 22 points in the Ranger game.

Things weren't so easy against the Wings last night, although the Stanley Cup champions held a 2-0 lead on goals by Cal Gardner and Harry Watson before Sid Abel scored for Detroit in the second period. Then the fireworks started.

ACTION APLENTY

Eight players got into the act, four from each team, and it took officials nearly 20 minutes to straighten things out and stop the verbal wrangling that eventually involved general manager Jack Adams of Detroit. Seven assorted penalties were handed out to five men for a total of 28 minutes.

If the players have any issues to settle, they'll be given the chance at Toronto Wednesday when their clubs meet again.

Subsidized Collegians Ineligible For Olympics

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP).—The head of the United States Olympic committee Saturday warned that subsidized college athletes, "rewarded financially for their talent alone," will be ineligible for the 1952 Olympic Games at Helsinki.

However, the Olympic boss, Avery Brundage, also said in an interview that financial aid to athletes, on the same basis as other deserving students in form of grants-in-aid or legitimate scholarships, is not affected.

Fat Reason For Fat Lead

Royals Have Dechene; Ironmen Thump Rockets

Lucien Dechene, the roly-poly Quebecois, is probably the fattest reason why New Westminster Royals are still cruising along in first place in the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

Take Saturday night, for instance. Royals pulled into their home station after a 44-hour train haul from Saskatoon only 2½ hours before taking the ice against the lathered-up Vancouver Canucks.

New Westminster sprinted into a 3-0 lead but were puffing heavily in the last period. It was only Dechene's superb netminding that let the Royals get away with a 3-2 victory.

The win extended Royals' unbeaten string to eight. In those eight games, Luke has not been scored on more than twice except in one game, a 6-5 victory over Victoria. As the league's top goalie, he has allowed an average of 2.4 goals per game over a period of 28 games.

Gord Fashoway scored two for New Westminster and Bobby Love one. Lorne Davis and Larry Popen netted for Vancouver.

Veteran George Agar's goal only three seconds from an up-gave Calgary Stampedeers an up-

COUGARS MAY LOSE/BALLANCE FOR 10 DAYS

Cougar right-winger Bob Ballance suffered a cracked rib in Saturday night's P.C.H.L. game at Tacoma.

However, the extent of the injury will not be known until Ballance is examined by the club physician Tuesday.

It is possible that he will be lost to the club for a period of seven to 10 days, according to a preliminary report from Tacoma.

set 4-3 win over the Quakers at Saskatoon.

The goal ended an eight-game undefeated streak for Saskatoon and a seven-game winless skien for Calgary.

Other Calgary scorers were Frank Ashworth, playing Coach Hank Blade and Cy Thomas.

Saskatoon marksmen were Johnny Chas, Karl Kaiser and Bob Mansoh.

PECHET HURT

The Stamps lost forward Mitch Pechet for probably six to eight weeks with a snapped vertebrae when he was checked into the boards by Quakers' Bill Heindl in the rough first period.

Tacoma Rockets split, winning 4-1 at home Saturday over Victoria Cougars and losing 7-3 to the Ironmen at Seattle Sunday night.

Moe Young, Bart Bradley, Mark Marquess and Ted O'Connor scored for Tacoma while Reg Abbott picked up Victoria's only goal in the last period. Victory put the Rockets in fourth place, two points ahead of the Cougars.

IRONMEN ROLL ON

Seattle, who has scored more goals than any other team so far this season, maintained a firm grip on second place by subduing the Rockets with ease.

No games are scheduled for tonight. Tuesday, Calgary starts a coast trip at Vancouver, and Edmonton will be at Saskatoon.

Cotnoir To Flyers

Jerry Cotnoir, spare goalkeeper of the Victoria Cougars, has been sent to Edmonton Flyers for one week on a lend-lease basis by the Victoria club.

Regular Flyer goalie Bill Brennan has been side-lined by a case of pneumonia and Cotnoir will take his place for one week.

Five Major Problems Face Minor Leagues

WILLIE MARSH IMPROVING

OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 3 (AP)—Apprentice jockey Willie Marsh of Calgary, injured in a Golden Gate Fields spill Friday, is improving, his special nurse said Sunday.

The diminutive 16-year-old rider has been in Providence Hospital here suffering from a brain concussion and severe lacerations over the right eye. He was thrown and kicked by his mount, Last Wing.

His nurse said Marsh is expected to be on his feet today. He is scheduled to be released from hospital in several days.

Royals-Bruins Share Bantam Hockey Lead

Royals defeated Maroons, 5-1, and Bruins nipped Capitals 3-1, to remain in a first-place tie in the bantam division of the Minor Hockey Association Saturday.

Cubs defeated Senators 2-1, in the other bantam contest.

Goal scorers for Royals were Barry Youell (2), Dallas Lansdale, Ken Liebel and Bob Harrison; for Maroons, Reg Sinclair; Bruins, Art Collis, Beryl Beere and Jim Brockman; Capitals, Bryce Sweetman; Cubs, Dick Game, Jim Booth; Senators, Jim Whalen.

In Saturday's only midday game, Senators and Bruins played to a 4-4 draw.

Steve Foster with three goals, and Murray Little, tallied for Senators, while Glen Lockhard had a pair, and Jim McLaren and Don Gilliam singletons for Bruins.

COLLIES PECULIARLY TOUGH

United Barely Edges Through

Victoria United moved into the second round of Anderson Cup play at Athletic Park Saturday afternoon but not before the strangest game of the season had been consummated.

Playing against Collingwood of the Vancouver and District Soccer League, United went from good to bad to worse as the game progressed and only managed a 1-0 victory on the strength of a late return to form as 700 fans were preparing to accept overtime.

Or as playing coach Wally Milligan said after the game: "We could have fielded a team of juveniles against Collingwood and shown better results."

The lone goal which originated from the foot of John Pickburn, the best player on the field, was a long goalmouth lob which Collingwood netminder Jack McMurray allowed to slip through his fingers into the net as he turned with the ball. Milligan bumped McMurray seconds after he dropped the sphere and then for good measure the United centre forward blasted the ball into the rigging. However, the goal went to Pickburn.

Apart from United's poor showing made so by the fact Collingwood forced United to play their style of game, it was an interesting if unspectacular match.

It was interesting because it appeared for a time that Collingwood might duplicate last year's feat of beating United in the final minutes of the game. And it was also amusing as the best of United's futile efforts were matched by some clever goaltending by McMurray, while the fans alternated between pleading with and castigating the home side.

THIRD SHUTOUT

On the credit side of the ledger is the fact the victory was United's third straight shutout—believed to be a record for the city team—and also the first loss of the season for Collingwood, which earlier this year aspired to become a Coast League club.

United also had the majority of scoring opportunities, but they underestimated the appalling strength of Collingwood backs, who packed the goalmouth, and were often beaten off the ball before a shot could be made.

United's opponent in future Anderson Cup competition will not be known until later in the week.

Lane, McDonald Control Saanich Shuttle Tourney

George Lane emerged as a triple winner in the Saanich badminton championships which concluded at Brentwood Community Hall Saturday.

Lane repeated last year's performance of capturing three titles by taking the men's singles crown and sharing the men's doubles and mixed doubles titles.

Matched against Jim Wells in the singles final, Lane scored a straight set 15-8, 15-1 triumph; he teamed with Ron Knott in the men's doubles for a 15-3, 17-18, 15-5 victory over Norm Lambick and Stu Reid. Partnering Bumps Salmon, Lane added the mixed crown with a 15-11, 15-2 triumph over Reid and Carol Chalmers.

The women's singles title went to Joyce McDonald (nee Joyce Thomson) with a 15-2, 15-1 victory over Libby Boak.

Mrs. McDonald and Muriel Knott annexed the women's doubles championship with a 15-3, 15-4 triumph over Barbara Atkins and Mrs. Salmon. Stu

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 3 (AP)—Five big major league questions remained to be answered and five important minor league problems waited to be solved as the minor leagues opened their Golden Jubilee convention here today.

Some 1,200 baseball people representing 49 leagues from all corners of the nation were in attendance.

These are the questions:

1. Will Eddie Stanky manage the St. Louis Cardinals?
2. Will Joe DiMaggio announce his official retirement?
3. Will Ted Williams be traded?
4. Will the New York Yankees get Ned Garver?
5. Will the Brooklyn Dodgers get Ewell Blackwell or any of the other star pitchers of the Cincinnati Reds?

The five problems confronting baseball, are open classification for the higher minors; radio and television inroads on minor league attendance; high school rule; abolition of 24-hour recall of players sent to lower classification and trimming of big league roster from 25 to 23 players; placing an eighth club in the International League.

The cold war between owners Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals and Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants continues as the canny Redbirds' boss declared he has three other candidates in mind besides the Giants' scrappy second baseman, Stanky.

The Giants have asked for outfielder Chuck Diering and southpaw Max Lanier. Saigh refuses to part with any of his pitchers. He has offered a second-string infielder along with Diering for Stanky.

Williams off market?

Lou Boudreau has just about decided to take Ted Williams' name off the market. The new manager of the Boston Red Sox is not satisfied with any of the offers he has had for his star slugger.

Buzzy Bavasi, young energetic vice-president of the Dodgers, said he was still hopeful of landing Ewell Blackwell, Howie Fox or German Wehner of the Reds. He also was seeking righthander Bob Rush of the Chicago Cubs.

Minor league president George M. Trautman said he was in favor of the open classification, keeping the high school rule and the abolition of the 24-hour recall.

"The new classification creates a class midway between the triple A and the majors," he said. "It would mean that a player would have to have five, instead of four, years in the minors before he could be drafted."

BAD RULING

Trautman said he believed the current 24-hour recall rule was bad.

"Bringing up kids from the minors after they have endeared themselves to the hearts of the fans in a particular city is dangerous," Trautman said. "It kills off the interest and attendance in that town."

An amendment wiping out all restrictions on televising and broadcasting of games is on the agenda.

"Radio and television has hurt us a lot," said the red-haired boss of the minors. "Our attendance fell off 20 per cent. Since 1949 we have dropped from 43 million attendance to 28 million."

Bays Loom As Threat For City Rugby Honors

Look out for J.B.A.A.!

Those were the words of manager Bruce McLean before and after Saturday's Victoria Rugby Union match between Bays and Victoria College at Macdonald Park.

As McLean stood on the sidelines with a big Quaker Oats smile on his face and the sun bouncing off his pallid pate, Bays licked the students, 11-3.

At the same time, at the lower end of Macdonald Park, Crusaders moved six points ahead of the second-place Bays with an 8-3 win over the cellar-dwelling Oak Bay Wanderers.

Bays started off toward their decisive win like a steamroller slowly gathering momentum on a downgrade.

Garry Pynn, who along with brother Gordy played a fine game throughout, started the scoring with a penalty kick from in front of the College posts.

Then brother Gordy increased the lead 6-0 when he dribbled a ball approximately 50 yards and fell on it in the end zone.

In the final stanza, College garnered their only points on an unconverted try by Dick Hales, while Dave Cook completed the scoring for Bays when he made a 10-yard plunge through the centre of the College line, losing part of his wardrobe en route.

Art Hicks was the mainspring in Crusaders win over Wanderers. He successfully converted a try by Jack Gibbs early in the first half, then in the second frame he made an unconverted try from a three-line run. Dick Ellis saved Oak Bay from a shutout on a penalty kick in game's dying minutes.

Derek Hyde-Laye and Norm Dickson christened Crusader uniforms, while Jim Burns and Art Dawe played their first game for Wanderers.

Flood Fight Continues At Island View

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Mayor Percy George left Victoria today en route to Montreal for an executive meeting of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, Thursday and Friday.

While in the east, it is expected the Mayor will resign his post as president of the federation, in view of his impending retirement from municipal politics.

A date for a meeting of the Labor Relations Board, striking brewery workers and brewery company officials was expected to be set this afternoon or Tuesday.

Col. D'Arcy Baldwin, board chairman, said today "matters are being developed," and he thought he could make an announcement soon.

The workers' union asked for intervention Friday and expressed hope for an early settlement. Before the board can intervene, however, the companies must also agree.

Charge of assaulting a police officer was withdrawn today.

"I have looked into this matter thoroughly and find we have insufficient evidence to proceed," said Prosecutor J. J. Proudfoot in city police court.

Robert Jackson, 1659 Rockland, went quietly away.

Premier Byron Johnson will not be able to attend the special Dec. 15 Vancouver meeting of the B.C. Young Liberals' Association.

The premier was invited last week by James J. Proudfoot, president, to attend and take part in the meeting.

Premier Johnson will be in Ottawa Dec. 10 when the Alberta-B.C. oil pipeline proposal comes before the Board of Transport Commissioners and will not be able to return to the coast in time for the meeting.

While E. H. Botting, 1015 Blanshard, was driving in town Sunday, making several stops, someone looted his car.

He told police an Electrolux and a sample case was stolen from his vehicle during one of his stops.

Construction workers employed on the huge Alcan development at Kitimat may be brought out by C.P.R. steamship to spend the Christmas-New Year season with their families, it was learned today.

No final decision has yet been made by the employers, but it is understood the C.P.R. may put on a special boat to handle the heavy traffic if present plans materialize.

Library Campaign Given Impetus By $1,000 Fair

One-fifth of the $5,000 Hugh Creelman Fund for a memorial library at Lampson Street School has been collected.

D. A. MacLeod, chairman of the fund committee formed to honor the memory of the late Hugh Creelman, principal of the school for many years, announced today $1,000 was realized from a Christmas fair at the school Saturday.

Students and teachers of Lampson joined with many different Esquimalt organizations to make the fair a success.

Among the organizations taking part were the I.O.E., Lions Club, Community Club, Women's Institute, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, Ratepayers' Association, Celebrations Association, P.T.A., Anglican Women's Auxiliary.

Co-chairman of the fund committee is Mrs. J. W. Smith; Mrs. I. MacMillan is secretary and R. McVie and A. Hutchinson are treasurers.

ISLAND TURKEYS WIN

C. E. Whitney Griffiths, Metehosin, exhibited the winning box of turkey hens in the Toronto Royal Winter Fair, it was learned here today. He also won several prizes in the Vancouver Island Turkey Breeders' Association show here last week.

STORM'S TAIL-END HITS CITY SUNDAY

Victoria and vicinity came in for another gale-shock Sunday night as the tail-end of a storm struck.

Winds blew here from the southeast at 46 miles an hour with gusts as high as 54.

The night storm came after a mostly sunny day. There was little wind in Victoria up to 3:30 p.m. Velocity increased from 10 miles per hour to 30 miles per hour within 15 minutes.

Shoreline dwellers were given some respite during the week.

Three Holiday From Warfront At V.I. Homes

Three Vancouver Island men, veterans of Korean fighting with a year of service behind them, are beginning 30-day leaves in Canada.

They are Cpl. R. R. P. Price, Brentwood; Cpl. F. C. Boe, Wellington; and Pte. K. Dobbs, Duncan, all of the P.P.C.L.I., who arrived in Vancouver Sunday from Seattle after a 12-day Pacific crossing aboard the American troopship Gen. Simon B. Buckner.

The Island men were luckier than most of the 166 members of the 25th Infantry Brigade who made the crossing, since they will have their pay sooner.

All the men received $10 and will receive the rest by cheque in the mail at their homes. Pay Corps officials said the action was in line with an Ottawa directive aimed to avoid "unfortunate incidents" that occurred when others arrived home Nov. 15.

Construction workers employed on the huge Alcan development at Kitimat may be brought out by C.P.R. steamship to spend the Christmas-New Year season with their families, it was learned today.

No final decision has yet been made by the employers, but it is understood the C.P.R. may put on a special boat to handle the heavy traffic if present plans materialize.

With scores of entries coming in each mail the Victoria Sunday Times magazine Christmas coloring contest appears to be stirring widespread interest among schoolchildren. It opened last Saturday and will continue two weeks.

Answering many telephone calls, the contest is open to all children under junior high school age.

First prize is $10, second $7.50 and third $5. There will be 10 other prizes of $1 each.

Competitors are asked to color the pictures of "The Night Before Christmas" story and send them to the Color Contest Editor, Victoria Daily Times, as they complete them.

A few back copies of last Saturday's Times magazine section are available from the Times circulation department for those who wish to get in the contest but failed to color the first lot of pictures.

CLUE MAY LEAD TO DRIVER WHO TOSSED PUP FROM CAR

S.P.C.A. officials said today they have been given a clue which may lead them to the person responsible for throwing a seven-month-old puppy from the window of a speeding car on Esquimalt Road last week.

The S.P.C.A. is offering $20 for information concerning persons responsible.

The dog, a Chesapeake pup, was so badly injured when picked up from a ditch by two children, it had to be "put to sleep."

S.P.C.A. officials said they received a description of a man who was seen by a Victoria resident Saturday abandoning a Chesapeake pup of about the same size as the one which was tossed from the car.

The two may be from the same litter, officials said.

Fur And Formal At Charity Show

Victorians mixed charity with pleasure at the Odeon Theatre Sunday night and the result was a glittering success for the Times-Solarium preview of "The Lavender Hill Mob."

The scene beneath the theatre marquee resembled a page from a Hollywood premiere as searchlights swept the blustery skies and a long queue of men, women and children filed in colorful array into the theatre.

It was an evening for furs and formals, and solid citizenry of Greater Victoria and the southern part of the Island in general.

In attending the preview of the hilarious English film, those in the near-capacity audience knew their money (general admission was $1) would directly benefit the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children.

Stuart Keate, publisher of The Times, presented a cheque for $1,200 to Logan Mayhew, president of the Solarium, as the highlight of stage ceremonies preceding the film showing.

Mayhew then thanked The Times, the audience and the management of the theatre for contributing to the success of the event. It was announced that full proceeds would not be known until after tonight's meeting of the Solarium Junior League members, who sold the tickets and otherwise helped make the affair an outstanding success.

NAVY BAND PLAYS
Lt.-Cmdr. H. G. Cuthbert directed the H.M.C.S. Naden band, which performed as the guests entered the theatre. CKDA announcer Gordon Reid broadcast a five-minute welcome from the stage and announcer Ed Farey interviewed guests as they arrived in the lobby.

The audience included provincial ministers, civic leaders of Victoria and adjoining municipalities, and high-ranking service officers.

Among those present were Works Minister and Mrs. E. C.

Navy Officer And Wife Win Substantial Accident Award

A sub-lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Navy and his young wife were awarded today a total of $3,906 in a judgment handed down by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in Supreme Court today.

The sum was for injuries suffered by Charles Norman Minty, H.M.C. Dockyard, and his wife, Ann. They sued Robert E. Wade, residing near Shawnigan Lake, following an accident on the Island Highway near Fisher Road on Nov. 10, 1951.

His Lordship held Wade to blame for the accident which resulted in Mrs. Minty receiving a serious arm injury.

Mr. Justice Macfarlane awarded the plaintiff Minty $300 in general damages and $806 in special damages. He awarded Minty's wife $2,500.

Conservative Breach Healed, Chiefs Claim

By GORDON FORBES

The 10-year breach between the federal and provincial sections of the Progressive Conservative party has been closed, delegates to the British Columbia P.C. Association annual meeting in Vancouver said today.

High officials in the party said the debate at the meeting, held in camera, brought about complete understanding.

One of the chief stumbling blocks to harmony was removed when a motion passed ruling that all business concerning both federal and provincial policies must be passed through the B.C. executive.

Later, George Drew, national leader, announced he "recognized and supported" Herbert Anscomb as leader of the party in B.C.

Some local delegates feel the appointment of Col. Cecil Merritt, V.C., former M.P., as Drew's "personal representative" in B.C. is the key to the whole question.

Drew promised that Merritt would work in complete cooperation with the party in B.C. "If this plan works out, everything will be all right," said Col. A. G. B. Lewis, president of the Esquimalt District P.C. Association, today.

Local delegates deplored reports which said the party breach had widened as a result of the meeting.

"Delegates came home feeling the breach had been healed," said Maj. Keith MacDougall, president of the Oak Bay P.C.'s.

Wing Cmdr. C. J. Holms, another delegate, said:

"There are bound to be differences of opinion in any large group—usually friendly—as they were in this instance. Due to the federal leader's long absence from the local scene there were many points open for candid discussion."

Denis Hagar, president of the Victoria Federal P.C.'s, said the breach had been closed.

David Metcalfe, vice-president of the Victoria Provincial P.C.'s, said "the two sections of the party have never been closer together."

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Peakes, V.C., M.P., now in Paris, was re-elected president of the association.

Sister Mary Theodore, Teacher, Author Passes

One of British Columbia's best-known teachers and authors, Sister Mary Theodore (Victoria Pineault), of the Sisters of St. Ann, died today at St. Ann's Academy.

She was 95 years of age, and oldest of the 2,114 sisters of her order.

Born in Oswego, N.Y., she joined the sisterhood in Lachine in 1874, and arrived in British Columbia in 1878.

She is well remembered for her teaching at Nanaimo, Cowichan, and Juneau, as one of the young missionaries on the coast, but for the last 40 years she has been at St. Ann's Academy in Victoria.

During her career she wrote several books dealing with community and diocesan history, and contributed many historical articles to magazines. She was provincial historian for the order, and established the academy museum. In 1949 Sister Mary Theodore celebrated her Jubilee of Grace, marking 75 years of religious profession. She held an honorary doctorate from the University of Ottawa, and was a member of the Catholic Order of Living Authors in Missouri.

Funeral will be at the academy Wednesday morning at 8:30, and interment will be made at Ross Bay.

Here We Go Again—More Economical Gifts To Make

By PENNY SAVER

Hope you won't mind, but I was so carried away with this idea of quick and easy ways to produce attractive gifts I thought I'd jot down a few more simple ideas.

Simplest gift to make is a pair of fringe-trimmed gloves. You buy the gloves, in beige cotton and a plain style. Then, at the cuff, you sew on chocolate-colored fringe in gauntlet fashion.

A stole will make any girl from teenage on up, happy on Christmas Day. Try one cut from a yard and half of black cotton satin. Line it with white cotton satin and edge it with a border of scallop trimming in black and white. The stole may be an oblong or a triangle.

Another stole, this one for practical daytime wear, can be done in beige monk's cloth and a triangular shape. Edge it with an all-wool fringe in dark grey. You'll need four yards of the fringe and a yard and a half of monk's cloth. This stole needs no lining, takes minutes to make.

Household gifts appear on almost everyone's list because they are useful. A set of six table mats and centre mat are all made of burlap, have an expensive look because of their trim.

Try gull-grey burlap bordered with bushy brown fringe. One-half inch in from the edge of the mat, sew another border of the brown rope trip. These mats, by the way, will launder readily.

You'll want two yards of the burlap and 13 of the bushy cotton fringe plus 11 yards of the cord rope.

Lots of people will get guest towels as gifts this year. But if you want your towel gifts to have originality, buy them in vivid, glowing color and edge them in cotton-knotted cream bedspread fringe. You'll need a yard.

If you can embroider, you might do initials on each in a heavy, cream-colored yarn. Or, try something like "The King" on towel "And Me" on the other.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Wonder Where Time Goes? Then Organize Yourself

Where does time go? Here it is the third of December when it ought to be at most just the middle of June. It seems only about a month since our children returned from school and we all began swimming, and only a week since we whirled through the turmoil of getting them ready for the fall session of improving the mind. It seems only a moment since I racked my mind and ruined my pocketbook trying to find suitable Christmas gifts for my friends and family. Here we go again!

The only way in the world to deal with time is to grab it by the throat and pin it down in many small ways. Otherwise it rolls over you quietly and smoothly and you never quite know what happened to you. Most of us go through life in such a befuddled state, never accomplishing the things we meant to, never getting the things we really wanted, always planning to do so, frustrated because we didn't, wondering where in the world the time went.

If we make up our minds to accomplish certain things they can be achieved if a little time is set aside each day for them. Five, 10 or 15 minutes are as important in building success and beauty as pennies and quarters are in building wealth. Do not say that you are too busy, because any woman can snag a half hour for herself out of a whole day if she really wants to.

That half hour can be divided into 15 minutes of exercise and 15 minutes of beauty care. Even that would make a big difference if it were regular.

Beauty care can be correlated with other activities. You can let cold cream soak in while you take your bath; you can lie down and rest while you telephone; you often have time to walk to a nearby store rather than go in the car; you can just as quickly eat essential and slimming foods as devitalize and fattening ones. In fact, faster, because it takes a little time to pour the cream on the pudding and dip the bread in the gravy. You can read while you watch the baking cake or rising rolls if your kitchen is equipped with a comfortable chair or a chaise longue.

Time is there waiting to be had. Get some of it for yourself!

TODAY'S RECIPE

SPICY CURRANT BUNS

Two cups Ready-Mix for pancakes, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon mace, ½ cup dried currants, ½ cup milk, 1 egg, beaten, ¼ cup melted shortening.

Mix dry ingredients and currants. Combine milk and egg; add all at once to dry ingredients, stirring only until blended. Fold in melted shortening. Form into 12 balls. Bake in greased 8-inch square pan in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

Separate buns and frost while hot with confectioners' sugar icing. Makes one dozen buns.

Lemon gelatin dissolved in two cups hot apricot whole fruit nectar with one teaspoon grated lemon rind added for zip, makes a perfect base for a fruit cocktail salad. When the gelatin has cooled to room temperature stir in two cups drained canned fruit cocktail. Chill in individual molds.

Navy Girl Recruits Take Winter Course

MONCTON, N.B., Nov. (CP)—"Bell-bottom skirts" come back to Moncton about the middle of November with the advance guard of more than 150 Canadian Navy women recruits, to be stationed at the Corderdale communications base for a six-month technical course.

The sailor girls, including Wrens who manned the first naval installations in this area during the Second World War, had preliminary training at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis at Deep Brook, N.S., the navy big entry training base.

They come here as trained communications workers.

"It's not like the navy I knew in the war," said Wren Petty Officer Vivian Wright, of Victoria, who spent 21 months in the naval division in the last war. "It's all a little confusing but it will straighten out shortly."

"We're part of the navy now but under special regulations like we were during the war. There's quite a difference."

Only one thing has bothered the girls so far—they never get enough letters, one of the best morale boosters in any service. Once friends and relatives settle down to that there won't be a more contented group of girls anywhere.

Do your children like cheese? Put a piece in the school lunch box most everyday. It's so good for them.

Most Shoppers Don't Take Advantage Of Low Prices When They Find Them

Housewives are getting too conditioned to high prices. When they do find something that's cheap they won't believe either their eyes or their noses. They'll squeeze it, smell it. Finally, they'll end up by asking the clerk what's the matter with it.

If he says nothing is wrong they won't believe him anyway. They'll go off in high dudgeon and buy something that costs twice as much. Because it's twice as expensive, they'll be certain it must be good.

The Canadian Association of Consumers is worried about this too-good-to-be-true trend among women shoppers and is trying to stamp it out.

"Let us plan our buying carefully, and . . . allow more time for our purchasing," it says in the bulletin it distributes monthly.

The C.A.C. told of an experiment in British Columbia in which the manager of a chain grocery store tried to prove that consumers buy by price. He divided a batch of identical tomatoes, selling part of them for 25 cents a pound and the rest for 29 cents. At the end of the day all the 29-cent tomatoes had been sold. Hardly any of the 25-cent ones were touched.

The Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association found in a survey that when foods went below a certain price, people wouldn't buy them. Hence, at the height of the lettuce season people wouldn't buy a five-cent head of lettuce.

We saw the same thing happen in Toronto—at the St. Lawrence Market. Chickens were selling at one stall for 50 cents a pound. One woman was suspicious.

"What's the matter with them?" she asked the vendor. He was indignant. "Nothing's the matter with them," he replied.

She moved on, but we bought one. It proved to be the cheapest and best chicken we've eaten in ages.

Just goes to show that nobody can afford to be suspicious all of the time.

The C.A.C. recommends this luncheon dish to budget-conscious housewives:

After vegetable soup has been made from a meaty soup-bone, cut all the meat through a food chopper with an onion. Scoop the marrow from the bone, add to the meat. Add poultry seasoning, parsley, salt, pepper to taste. Moisten with soup. Cook till the onion is clear. The mixture should be of a consistency to spread easily. Make thin pancakes. Spread with the mixture and roll like a jelly roll. Keep warm in oven until ready to serve with the soup.

Chicken scrapple is another C.A.C. budget dish. Ingredients (for eight servings): 3½ cups chicken broth; one tablespoon all-purpose flour; one cup corn meal; one-half tea-

Party Plans—At the recent meeting of Victoria Lodge, No. 83, Daughters of St. George, plans were made for Christmas party to be held at Terry's, Dec. 20. Three new members were initiated. Meeting closed with cards and a birthday party to honor Mrs. E. McKenzie.

Did you ever taste hot chicken salad? It's easy to make with chopped cooked chicken. Combine the chicken with chopped green onion, celery, pimiento and wedges of ripe olives. Blend with cooked salad dressing. Place in individual baking dishes, cover with crushed corn flakes and bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 minutes.

Try this quick dessert on your family and watch them ask you to serve it again and again. Stick canned peach halves with a few whole cloves and place in a shallow baking dish. Combine ½ cup peach syrup with ¼ cup molasses, two tablespoons melted butter and one tablespoon lemon juice. Pour over peaches and bake in moderate oven 15 to 20 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream.

Dinner At Admiral's House

Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Wallace B. Creery will be hosts to-morrow evening at a dinner party in Admiral's House to honor Flag-Lt. and Mrs. G. B. Wither, who are leaving soon for England. Covers will be laid for 12. Among the guests will be Lieut. Michael Arthur Martin, and his fiancée, Miss Patricia Greer, whose wedding takes place this week-end.

At Fiesta's Head Tea Table

Presiding at the head table during the tea hour at the Mexican Fiesta tomorrow afternoon in Britannia Branch Auditorium, on Arena Way, will be Mrs. W. B. Creery, Mrs. A. Perron, Mrs. J. B. Millward, Mrs. S. H. Okeil, Mrs. R. H. B. Ker and Mrs. E. W. Arthott. Tea will be served from 3 until 5:30. The Fiesta has been planned by the Women's Auxiliary to the Veterans' Hospital.

Anniversaries Celebrated

Saturday evening at the Empress Hotel supper dance, Miss Edith Stafford celebrated her 71st birthday with a party of 10 friends. Wedding anniversaries included that of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hutchinson, who were celebrating a ninth wedding day in a party of eight, and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Taylor, a third anniversary, as a twosome. Managers of T. Eaton Company store with their wives made up a party of 35 at the dance.

Honored At Farewell Party

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cox entertained Saturday evening at their Joan Crescent home to honor Mrs. Cox's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Askey, who, with their son, Lorne, will make their future home in Vancouver. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. G. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. S. Feldon, Mr. and Mrs. G. Woolridge, Mr. and Mrs. R. Little, Mr. and Mrs. P. Jonge, Mr. and Mrs. G. Wharfe, Mr. and Mrs. R. Mylrea, Mr. and Mrs. N. Wharfe, Mr. and Mrs. F. White, Mr. and Mrs. R. McBratney, Mr. and Mrs. J. White, Mr. and Mrs. B. Bertucci, Mrs. H. Bridger, Mr. R. Bridge, Miss Diane Cox and Mr. Lorne Askey.

Dr. and Mrs. Neil Stewart, Goodwin Street, with their son David, left Saturday for Chicago, where Dr. Stewart will do post-graduate work for a year at the University of Illinois. They will return to this city when Dr. Stewart completes his studies.

Colonel and Mrs. Brooke Stephens, Currie Road, are leaving Thursday for a two-month holiday in Hawaii. They plan to stay one month in Honolulu and one month at Koni Inn.

Miss Patsy Ruth Sinnott returned from Vancouver this morning, following a week-end spent in the mainland city where she attended Friday night's performance of the Sadler's Wells Theatre Ballet.

Mrs. A. B. German, the former Sage Ley, returned to the city recently with her husband, Lieut. German, R.C.N., and their year-old son, Richard. Lieut. and Mrs. German have been living in Halifax for the past two years. Previously they were in England for a year and a half. Lieut. and Mrs. German will make their home at 657 St. Patrick Street until March, when they will return to Halifax.

Past presidents and members of the executive will preside at tea tables for the Christmas tea arranged by Women's Canadian Club on Tuesday, Dec. 11, in the Crystal Ballroom at the Empress Hotel. The tea, which is an annual event, will be highlighted this year with presentation of honorary life memberships to Hon. Nancy Hodges and Dr. Margaret Newton.

Realize $152 At Bazaar-Tea

It was reported at recent meeting of Royal Roads Chapter I.O.G.E. that $152 was realized at a bazaar and tea which was opened by Mrs. O. B. Ormond, municipal regent.

Mrs. J. L. Gates, honorary regent, presided at the tea table and Mrs. G. Gardiner received cash.

Conveners of stalls were Mrs. L. McLure, tea; Mesdames P. Angus and A. Cripps, homecooking; Mesdames E. Rogers and M. Zabel, needlework; Mesdames B. Carlyle, J. J. Crowe and C. F. McHardy, candy.

A hamper for some needy family at Christmas will be placed by the chapter as well as extra comforts for the adopted patient at the Veterans' Hospital. The adopted school is to receive Christmas treats, and a library is to be started for the parents.

Mrs. J. C. F. Blowey, post-war convener, reported three food parcels sent to three families in England. Mrs. J. J. Crowe stated monthly visits to Veterans' Hospital had been made when magazines, cookies, candy and fruit had been distributed.

Next meeting will be combination sewing and business at the home of Mrs. H. S. Hewitt, 1015 Carberry Gardens, Wednesday.

First Nighters Attend Preview

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Husband were among "first nighters" at the Solarium-Times sponsored preview showing of "The Lavender Hill Mob" last evening in the Odeon Theatre.

Among the many Victorians who came to the preview, in aid of the crippled children at Queen Alexandra Solarium, were Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Amyot.

Alderman Margaret Christie and her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, paused in the lobby of the Odeon Theatre for the Times photographer.

Raise $250 At Bazaar

St. Matthias' Evening Guild realized $250 at their recent bazaar and tea. Mrs. J. D. Hunter opened the affair and the parish hall was decorated with spruce boughs and holly for the affair. The many stalls were also attractively decorated.

Concert Proceeds For O.E.S. Free Cancer Dressing Station

The Eastern Star Choir will give a concert next Friday, commencing at 8:15 in the Centennial United Church, Gorge Road, in aid of the Order of the Eastern Star free cancer dressing stations. Assisting artists will be Mrs. Iris Paver, contralto, Stan Martin, baritone and Misses D. Ellis and Gibson and Mesdames Chandler and Gilbert, duo piano-quartette. Proceeds from the concert will be used to purchase materials for the dressings which are made by members of the Eastern Star at the cancer dressing station, 1417 Broad Street, and distributed free to cancer patients.

During the past year over 32,000 dressings have been distributed.

Play-Time Clothes Featured By 20 California Designers

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3 (AP)—Twenty California designers recently concluded the National Press Week showing of resort and cruise fashions to fashion editors. Femininity was the keynote.

Over-all trends seen in the huge group showing of 100 models: accented the feminine, even in active sportswear. Glitters and glamour were seen on everything from otherwise boyish shorts and skirts, to sundresses and full-circle separate skirts.

Colors, too, are feminine with pastels in the lead. Pink, white, pale blue intermixed with the more intense shades. There was lots of black and white, too. A new shade of toast-brown blends beautifully with a suntan. Among the shows toppers was a new fabric introduced by Rosensblum called worsted wool shantung—a wonderful all-year weight in mild climates.

The M. R. Fleischman Company of San Francisco drew applause for a "French smock" in faded blue denim. Junior Miss scored with a reversible skirt with pleating. A brilliant print on one side, solid color on the other gave milder double duty wear.

Zolot featured a hand-loomed imported Italian cotton in a short fly-away jacket. The fabric almost resembled a fine wool plaid.

Natural color silk Pongee separates with gold thread and gold sequin embroidery were shown by Barney Max. Fashion editors said the best shorts were designed by Marjorie Montgomery.

Account Of Trip Given At Meeting

Mrs. H. R. Clark gave an account of her recent visit to England and the Continent at meeting of Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild. She commented on hand weaving in the countries visited and mentioned many scenic places she saw.

It was decided to change the time of the annual meeting from January to June.

Mrs. Sidney Pickles, chairman of the study group committee, announced a meeting of the evening group, tonight at her Newport Avenue home. Miss Marjorie Hill, instructor, will give a demonstration of weaving "Rose Fashion."

Members viewed the library of the guild and gave suggestions for making better use of it.

They'll Do It Every Time

OKAY, SO YOU GOT INSURANCE. BUT IS JUST WANT TO DO YOU A FAVOR AND LOOK OVER YOUR POLICY—HERE—JUST CHECK OFF THE AGE YOU'D LIKE TO RETIRE AT—

BUT I'M AFRAID RIGHT NOW, BULBERRY—AN' BESIDES—

I THOUGHT BULBERRY QUIT HIS JOB LAST WEEK! WHAT'S HE DOING BACK HERE ALREADY?

HE QUIT TO BE A BIG INSURANCE MAN. HIS GOOD-OL' KISS IS STILL WET AND HE'S BACK TRYING TO SIGN US ALL UP—

HE'S AROUND HERE MORE NOW THEN WHEN HE WORKED HERE—IN THE STOCK ROOM—

THE MAN WHO CAME BACK—THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME—

THANK Y'ERS, DALLAS, TEXAS

BEDTIME STORY

by Thornton W. Burgess

Peter Rabbit was out of sorts. He gets that way sometimes. Most folks do. He was grumbling as he sat in the dear Old Briar-patch. He was talking to himself, but loudly enough so that Mrs. Peter would overhear him. "Old Mother Nature isn't fair," said Peter.

"In what way is she unfair?" asked little Mrs. Peter.

"She makes living easy for some folks and hard for others," grumbled Peter.

Little Mrs. Peter twitched her wobbly little nose. "Explain," said she.

Peter hesitated. He looked out across the Green Meadows, now brown and soon to be white with snow. Johnny Chuck's house was out there, and somewhere down under ground in that house Johnny Chuck was fast asleep. Anyway, he was supposed to be. Peter hadn't ventured down inside to find out if he really was asleep. "Well," said Peter slowly, "just take the case of Johnny Chuck and us Rabbits."

"What about it?" Mrs. Peter spoke a bit sharply.

"He sleeps all winter. He doesn't have to worry about where he is going to get something to eat. He doesn't even know Jack Frost is around. But we Rabbits have to go half starved when everything is covered with ice and snow."

Little Mrs. Peter gave Peter a queer look. "Would you really want to sleep all winter if you could?" she asked.

"Of course! Wouldn't you?" replied Peter.

Little Mrs. Peter shook her head. "No," said she flatly. "You wouldn't either," she added.

"Why wouldn't I?" demanded Peter.

"Think of all you would miss," said little Mrs. Peter.

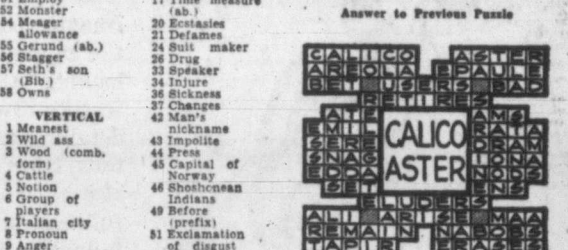

"That is just what I am thinking of," retorted Peter. "I would miss all the bad storms. I would miss having to live on food I don't much like. I would

Duncan Murder Trial Delayed; Defendant Ill In Hospital

A murder hearing has been postponed in Duncan because the accused has been hospitalized.

Crown counsel R. J. Harvey reported that the hearing of Albert Fairweather, 27, Vancouver, has been adjourned to Jan. 9, because "he is quite ill" in Vancouver General Hospital.

Fairweather is charged with the murder of a fellow logger, Raymond Boyce, 24, also of Vancouver, following an argument on the Island Highway north of Duncan Sept. 19.

Harvey indicated that Fairweather may have to undergo an operation. The accused was picked up by police in an Edmonton hospital after he had successfully eluded R.C.M.P. for 46 days. He was forced to go to hospital because of an abdominal wound that required medical attention. He went through a serious operation in the Edmonton hospital.

Buttle Battles Common In U.S.

There are plenty of "Buttle Battles" in the United States," said Dr. Alfred G. Etter of Missouri, Audubon screen tour lecturer, who showed his colored motion picture "Ozark Idyll" at the S. J. Willis School auditorium.

Dr. Etter, who served as a consultant biologist on President Truman's resources policy commission, was commenting on the Buttle Lake issue on Vancouver Island. He left here Saturday for Vancouver.

"It is not unusual for governments to set aside land for conservation and recreation and then reclaim it for industrial use," he said.
